Myer-Hall Machine Works Open Business

By: Kala Hazelhoff

Erik Hall was born and raised in Canton. He then went to the University of Nebraska for Electrical Engineering and Computer Engineering. During college his favorite part of school was when they were able to build projects and see them move. After college he worked for NSK, a company that makes ball bearings for the automotive industry. NSK had an automated assembly line process, and it was his job to design, build, and repair the machinery which created the bearings. Hall moved back to South Dakota in 2015 and began working for a local systems integrator that did a lot of work in Industrial Agriculture plant designing and building. Working there he realized that he loved it so much he wanted to start his own company. Hall knew if he were to start the company, he would need to have a mechanical engineer partner, so he reached out to his friend Jeremy Myer. In September of 2023, after years of planning, Hall was able to start "Myer-Hall Machine Works" with his business partner Jeremy Myer.

"Myer-Hall Machine Works" is a machine builder company that goes hand in hand with problem solving for customers. If a customer has an issue that they need a fix for, they will partner with them to design and build a machine that solves the issue. Sometimes these designs involve robotics.

"The most common issue we see is that companies can't hire enough people to do the jobs that are needed. Having a machine that will do the job, or that makes the job easier, allows the people that companies are able to hire more productive." - Erik Hall

Their company also does a fair amount of machine rebuilding. If a customer has an existing machine that is either worn out mechanically or has old electronics on it that need to be upgraded, they take that machine and rebuild it so that it works like it is intended to. Sometimes, a customer has a machine that does 90% of what it needs to, but to make it more productive they can add on to the existing system and improve it from its current state.

They are quickly starting to outgrow their existing space, so the goals for the short term are to look at getting a larger shop. After that they are hoping to expand enough that they can hire some more employees and continue to grow the company.

Customers can contact them on the website: www.myer-hall.com or can call Hall directly at 605-610-7214.

Canton 5th Grade Declamatory Speech Winners

In the spring, all 5th Grade students selected a speech to memorize and perform in front of an audience. The focus of this speech was using verbal language skills of volume, fluctuation, and pitch; as well as nonverbal language skills such as gestures and actions to suit the tone of their speech. Earlier in the week, local high school students judged the first round of speeches in which they selected the top three performers in each of the three fifth grade classrooms. Those top nine students then performed in the finals round before a panel of community judges who awarded the three performers. A big thank you goes to all the judges for their expertise.

Pictured at left are the 5th grade declamatory speech winners and the panel of judges behind them. Front row from left to right: Easton Skiles - first place, Taylor Stevens - second place, and Soren Hill - third place. Judges from left to right: Mrs. Karen Ulrikson, Mrs. Linda Ripley and Mrs. Kathy Van Voorst.

Kevin Oliver Rhead, 64, passed away peacefully at Sanford/USD Medical on Saturday, April 20 surrounded by family.

Kevin was born August 21, 1959, to Truman and Fern Rhead of Canton, the youngest of five children. Early years were spent on the family farm, south of Canton, then moved to town in 1970 but continued spending time on the farm with his horses. He graduated from Canton High School in '77 where he was an outstanding football player. During high school, Kevin spent his time rebuilding a '48 Chevy when he was 16. Following graduation, he took his love for cars and turned it into getting a degree in automotive mechanics from Lake Area Tech. This led him into a life-long career of being a trusted mechanic. He spent the last 15 years before retiring in 2023, working on customized vans for the handicapped at IMed. His relationships with these families was something he truly valued and would be available around the clock for his customers.

Kevin loved to travel and being a part of the outdoors. Every year he continued his camping traditions to his favorite spots. One of his fondest was seeing how far he could push the limits on long weekend camping/hiking trips in Colorado with his son, Mike. He loved sharing the wonders of nature with his kids and grandkids. These moments were so important to Kevin, and he cherished every minute.

In 2011, Kevin met Lorrie Lamb, who he was able to enjoy many of his precious hobbies with, including softball, concerts, movies, hiking, car shows, autocross, sporting events for the grandkids and cheering on the Chicago Bears.

HISTORY REVISITED

By Gaynor Johnson

It's Mother's Day this Sunday and I may be way off but I don't believe you'll find a whole lot of Mother's Day Concerts in this area featuring songs all about mom. But there is one place you can venture to if you want to treat your mom or wife to songs about them. That place is Gayville Hall located in the small burg of Gayville, halfway between Vermillion and Yankton. It's definitely not fancy or state of the art by any means. It's just an old building on Gayville's main street that I consider to be one of the best places to hear live music in this corner of South Dakota.

You'll enter from an adjacent former beauty salon where you pay admission. Then you'll enter into what was once Gayville's grocery store. There's a great art gallery featuring the work of local artists and an area where concessions can be purchased. No alcohol is served. You'll sit on chairs that fan out from the front of the stage. Almost every square inch of the inside walls is covered by posters, quilts, antique artwork, etc. Gayville Hall is definitely geared towards an older crowd but you'll see some younger folks too.

Performing this Sunday is Owen DeJong, fiddle, Nick Schwebach, guitar and vocals, Larry Rohrer, bass and vocals, Al Remund, drums, Matt Kiger, guitar and vocals, Al Remund, drums, Matt Kiger, guitar and vocals and Brenda George, vocals. It all begins at 2 p.m. and mother's receive 50% off admission with one full-price admission.

Gayville Hall is the exact opposite of what Canton's Performing Arts Center is but that's what makes it such a unique venue. It's almost like stepping into the past for a couple hours but I can guarantee you'll leave with a smile on your face and so will your mom. For more information on "A Mother's" Day Music Extravaganza please call 605-267-2859.

The following story concerning Canton's Baptist Church was taken from the 1966 Centennial Edition of the Sioux Valley News. Happy reading and Happy Mother's Day.

Baptist Church Organized by Freeman in 1872

Canton's Baptist Church was organized 95 years ago in Canton on March 18, 1872, by the Rev. G.W. Freeman who had been sent into the Dakota Territory to organize the Baptists scattered over this area of the state.

Following the organization of the church, the Rev. J.J. McIntire came to serve as the first pastor. He worked at preaching stations at Canton, Lodi, Finley, Swan Lake and at two out stations.

Rev. McIntire wrote a history of the early days of the Baptists in Dakota Territory.

"On Oct. 17, 1871, we reached our location on the Vermillion River, ten miles from the nearest settler. On March 13, 1872, the Rev. O. W. Freeman opened preaching stations in Lincoln County and organized the scattered Baptists in a church with headquarters in Canton," according to the Rev. McIntire's history.

"Most of the preaching was done in private houses through the county. At that time there were no school houses except in the small towns along the river. There were no railroads and no means of travel except by private conveyance."

In June 1872, he received a commission to preach in Union, Turner and Lincoln counties. He rode from 75 to 150 miles a week. At times when the streams were swollen after heavy rains or the road was drifted shut with snow, he had to travel much farther.

In October 1873, the Rev V. B. Conklin came to Canton and on March 15, 1885, the church was reorganized under Rev. Conklin. Services were held in the school and the courthouse until 1887, when the Rev. E. M. Heyburn was pastor, the church presently in use was built. It was dedicated in December 1887.

The congregation operated until 1930, when the church was closed for a couple of years.

Various events of the church including buying an organ in 1898, installing electric lights in 1899 and building a parsonage 1900. In 1912 the congregation united with the Bethel Church. A burning of the mortgage occurred in 1944.

Can Live. Can Dream. Can Do.

Windmill Of My Mind

by Margaret Schultz

I don't mean to brag or anything, but we have one of the most prolific crops of Dandelions that I have ever seen. Hands down, its the best. They are pretty when they are blooming, you must admit, but once they "lose their bloom" they are rather ugly. Be glad I don't live in town, next door to you, because my lawn is a mess. There is a wild, volunteer plant that has sprung up all over our back yard, even amidst the Dandelions. When it blooms, which will happen very soon, it has lovely purple flowers. As goofy as it may sound, I am mowing around the volunteer plants, leaving a strange pattern in our yard. Once the purple blooms are gone, I will mow them off, along with the Dandelions.

Why am I telling you this? I have absolutely no idea, other than to say, I rather admire the Dandelions and volunteer plants (weeds?), because they grow and bloom where nature has planted them. And they don't give up easily, because even though you try to dig them up and mow them, they just keep coming back. That's persistence. I guess we all could learn a little something from that. And that being said, I will move on to something else.

The other day, we had a wonderful visit with a dear friend who lost her husband just a few short years ago. We have enjoyed over fifty years of friendship, raising our kids together. Karen loaned Bob a book about the history of our area, knowing he would enjoy it. Only moments after we got home, Bob was "hooked". I texted Karen and said I would never get any work out of him now, and we both laughed.

Bob and Lee could be talking one moment and then dozing off the very next, thereby earning the title "The Snooze Brothers." Karen asked whether I was able to write poetry while Bob was snoring, so I sent her this little ditty right away. "Oh, I think that I shall never see someone snore as much as he. He takes a breath then lets it out. I think I'll cover up his snout!" That got me to thinking about the two of them, snoring and all.

They could talk and laugh and clap, then suddenly take a little nap. They drove the boats so all could ski and gave good tours so we all could see. "That cabin there is being built, with nothing spared, it's to the hilt. The people in that cabin there, can live and play without a care." Then when mealtime came, they would grill up some pork, tender enough to just use a fork. They went to Alaska for the Iditarod and thought that state was straight from God. But their favorite spot in all the land was Oakwood Lake so fine and grand. They talked politics, religion, and football, too, and of course banking, to name but a few. But after all was said and done and everyone had had their fun, they'd cross their arms across their chests and suddenly take a little rest. Now, here is to the Snooze Brothers - they are the best.

Let us Never Forget

As Memorial Day approaches, it is a great time to pause and consider the true meaning of this holiday. This is a day for national awareness and reverence. It's a day to honor those Americans who died while defending our nation and our values. We can never underestimate or over appreciate the costs they bore for us.

Let us never forget how fortunate we are to live in freedom. And let us always commemorate our history and honor the sacrifices these heroes gave to protect that freedom. They led colorful, vivid, and passionate lives, and we owe it to them and their families to honor and pay tribute to them.

To me, cemeteries are like libraries - rich in history with hundreds of headstones that each tell a story. I challenge you to visit a cemetery, especially a veteran's cemetery, walk down each row and capture each veteran's story. You'll read about great Americans, recognize their valor, and applaud the blessings their bravery secured. They came from all backgrounds, ages, faiths, colors, and creeds.

Books help us open our minds and increase our understanding of the world around us. Veteran's headstones tell their stories. They tell us when they served, where they served, and what their mission was. Each veteran is unique and exploring their memoirs will leave a lasting impact.

Never forget that our veterans sacrificed their future and their dreams, and it is our duty to keep their legacy fresh in the memories of future generations.

Younger workers must balance financial priorities

If you're a younger worker just starting out in your career, you've got tremendous personal and professional opportunities ahead of you. But this is also when you will need to make some key decisions - especially about your financial priorities.

When considering your priorities, you may find it helpful to look at these three areas:

Paying off debts - If you're like many young working people, one of your biggest debts may be your student loans - and paying these down is, by necessity, a priority, because falling behind on your student loan payments can lead to late fees and other problems. So, if you haven't done so already, you may want to enroll in autopay, which will help you stay current on your loan and possibly earn a rate reduction.

Saving for short-term goals - At this stage of your life, you may be thinking about saving for at least one or two significant short-term goals, such as a wedding or a down payment to a house - or perhaps both. Obviously, your ability to save for these goals will depend on your income, your current cost of living

Meeting Face To Face Makes The Arts Come Alive

One of the main keynote speakers for the biennial State Arts Conference June 7-8 in Sioux Falls is Randy Cohen, Vice President of Research at Americans for the Arts. Randy travels the nation, sharing cultural information and the impact of the arts with groups in every state. He is often the face of Americans for the Arts and he knows, better than anyone, the power of personal contact in energizing and mobilizing arts advocates. He spoke to me recently about the value and lasting opportunities of a state arts conference.

"Good things happen when we're together and in person," Randy said. "Just like the power of the arts, that's where the magic happens. Being present in our communities helps activate all the good research and hard work people have done."

"Virtual convenings were the parachute we needed during the pandemic. Without that ability to work together and share information, we all would have been lost in the desert. Technology has made some aspects of our work more efficient. But to me, it is akin to experiencing and your debt situation. But if a wedding or a new home is indeed a priority for you, you'll want to look at what's possible, in terms of putting money away. Since you know you'll need a certain amount of money at a given time, you may want to automatically move a set amount from your checking or savings account each month to a low-risk account whose principal is essentially protected. You might not earn a lot on such an account, but at the same time, you won't have to worry about a drop in value just when you need to take out the money.

Saving for retirement - Even though you may just be at the beginning of your working life, it's not too soon to begin preparing for its conclusion. You could spend two, or even three, decades in an active retirement, so you will need to accumulate considerable financial resources. Fortunately, here's an area in which you may be able to get some help, starting right away. If you work for a mid-size or large company, your employer may well offer a 401(k) or similar retirement plan. Your pre-tax salary deferral contributions are generally not

"Meet Me in Another Life" by Catriona Silvey

For fans of "The Time Traveler's Wife" and "The Midnight Library." Also for fans of the show "Black Mirror."

Have you ever met someone for the first time and feel like you already know that person? This book is about two strangers whose fates intertwine with each other over many different variations of lifetimes. The story shows the perspectives of both main characters, destiny having them meet in each lifetime, sometimes remembering past lifetimes. Why are they able to have multiple timelines? What makes them different from everyone else?

I enjoyed this book as it had many different themes involved: science fiction, romance, and a little mystery thrown in there. The chapters were not terribly long, which made for easy reading. I read it on my Kindle and there were a couple nights I was reading under the blanket not to interrupt my husband's sleeping. I thought this was a fun read and then had an exceptional ending. For the readers who are looking for something a little different, I would recommend picking up "Meet Me in Another Life."

"Little kids all love the stars. They want to be astronauts. Explore the universe, see what no one else has ever seen. But then we get older and--we stop looking up. We keep our eyes on the ground and decide to be something realistic." - Meet Me in Another Life

This was a great cafe to eat in back in the early years in 1986. This cafe location had many good operators and owners in the past 35-40 years. Today this building is still good to dine in downtown on 5th Street.

This old ad goes back to the 1980's in Downtown Canton. It was a full service hardware store on East 5th Street about where the Insurance offices are in 200 block of 5th Street.

This 1970 ad was from a big store on South Main Street that used to be a hardware store. It was a mainstay goods store that ran for many years. These kind of variety stores don't exist much anymore.

This was another Main Street long time business. It was on South Main on the corner right next to the VFW Building. This service company took care of a lot of home and business places. This ad was from 1970 in Sioux Valley News.

Sioux Valley Unearthed

One of the fun things about writing articles about the civil war veterans from Lincoln County is that once in a while you get a contact back from one of the descendants. Such was the case a few months ago when I received a call about Robert Black. As some know researching people with limited information can lead one down a wrong trail and such was the case for my story about Mr. Black. I am pleased to correct this having been provided with family history. I am also pleased to announce that Robert Black's Great Grandson Jackie Erickson will be presenting Roberts story at the Canton Civil War Days August 17-18.

Robert C. Black, enrolled in the Company C, 8th NY Heavy Artillery Dec 1863 at age 37 for a 3-year enlistment. His company trained in New York and joined the regiment in Feb of 1863 at Baltimore MD. They were tasked with protection in defense of Baltimore. In May of 1864 the regiment was ordered to join the Army of the Potomac in the field. They were involved in the Rapidan Campaign, Spotsylvania Court House, Petersburg, (wounded with a gunshot wound to the left thigh on June 16th 1864). In October of 1864, through April of 1865 he is listed as being in Washington DC in the hospital because of his wounds. He was awarded a pension of $6.00 per month because of his wound. He was transferred to the, 23rd Company Second Battalion of the Veteran Reserve Corp during his recovery, The reserve Corp was organized to be a reserve organization made up of injured disabled or infirm soldiers who were able to perform light duties. The Second Battalion was made up of men whose disabilities were more serious, who had lost limbs or suffered some other grave injury. These latter were commonly employed as cooks, orderlies, nurses, or guards in public buildings. Though known as an artillery unit the 8th carried rifles and were drilled as infantry. He mustered out in June of 1865.

A word about the "Heavies". Since much of their time had been spend in Garrison Duty and not in the field, many accounts talk about that when they were ordered to the field, they brought all the comforts from being in a fort. Large cook stoves, cots, heavy tents with wooden floors, multiple sets of clothing, personal chests of items from home etc, were seen littering the trail of the heavies as they discarded the luxuries they had enjoyed for so long.

He had been born in Ireland and arrived in the port of New York August of 1842. He arrived in Lincoln County in April of 1873 from Jones County Iowa. The 1880 census list him as a farmer owning land in section 10 of Lincoln Township in 1885. He and his wife Sarah McMaster had five children.

Elizabeth, William, Stephen, Sarah and Matilda,. In the census he is listed as a farmer. In 1884 the GAR post in Canton arranged for a Fair to be held in June. The veterans donned their uniforms for a parade. Robert was one of the organizers of this event. He sold his land and moved to Sioux Falls where he was listed as a drive for the Sioux Falls Street Rail Company. A few years laterIn 1900 Robert is listed as living in Sioux Falls. Robert's obituary is not found but he is buried in Forest Lawn Cemetery here in Lincoln County. He died in Sioux Falls in 1906 but a devastating fire for the Argus Leader destroyed their archive. It is unfortunate that I could not find the conclusion of this man's story.

Mental Health Memo

Governor Noem challenges South Dakotans to check in on someone during Mental Health Awareness Month

PIERRE – It's easy to talk about the small stuff like the weather. But deeper conversations, about how someone is really doing, can be hard. That's why Governor Kristi Noem has proclaimed May as Mental Health Awareness Month, asking all South Dakotans to the take time to check in on someone. Ask how they are really doing.

"As community members, friends, and, of course, family members, we all play a part in one another's mental health and well-being," said Governor Noem in her proclamation. "Whether we share resources, encourage others to seek help, or simply are there for someone when they need us, we can instill hope and encourage others to reach out when they need it most."

Starting the conversation is the first step. When attempting to initiate, do so when you know both you and the person whom you are concerned about have adequate time so that you might avoid having to cut short dialogue that is helpful to a person struggling in their mental health.

"Together we can make it easy to talk about the big stuff," said Terry Dosch Executive Director to the South Dakota Council of Community Behavioral Health. "It's important we remove the stigma from taking care of our mental health and talk about it in the same way we'd talk about going to a physician or taking medication for a physical illness."

Here are some tips:
• Ask. Ask if they are okay. Make sure you try not to accuse or blame them for your observations. A good way to do this is by using "I" statements. For example, instead of saying "You never hang out with us anymore, why is that?" you can say "I've missed hanging out with you recently, are you okay?"

• Listen. Give them your full attention, be empathetic, and acknowledge how they feel, even if you've never experienced the same feelings. If you have experienced mental health challenges, consider opening up and being vulnerable when talking about your own struggles so instead of feeling judged, the person feels safe being honest with you.

• Encourage. Whether it's talking to family, other friends, or looking into therapy, encourage your friend to take action by connecting them to resources in their area.

• Check in. Let them know you're there to help and that they can talk to you. If you get brushed off the first time, don't give up.

"Meaningful connections with others can serve as lifelines for individuals struggling in their mental health" said DSS Cabinet Secretary Matt Althoff. "By fostering relationships that encourage empathy, understanding, and active listening, South Dakotans can help create safe spaces where people can feel seen, heard, and supported. By encouraging open and candid conversations about mental health, we also promote compassion and make deepened connections within our communities."

Some good weather was a good start to mens league for golf this season for me and for about 60 teams and it was fun as it gets going. It was my first round of golf at Hiawatha and my 2nd round this year so a little rust was knocked off but not too bad and with Dave Sehrs help we played pretty good for being so early in the season. Dave is helping me until Zach gets moved back to this area then he is going to be my league partner so I will have to pick it up then. I have been partners with Mike Christensen forever and we had things figured out pretty good on what to expect from each other and now Mike is taking some time off from league and I don't think it was to get away from me but could you blame him. Mike did a lot for our team as he checked us in and set things up since he is way better at being organized and I am not so now all of a sudden, I had to do some of that stuff and as I was doing it I thought man do I miss Mike here making sure it gets done but after one week I think I didn't mess it up yet but it is still young. Thanks Mike for many years of fun league and I appreciate the golf and hope we can still play again this summer. Thanks to Dave for filling in for a few weeks and carrying me this first week and I hope I don't get too heavy for you while you carry me each week. Good luck to all the golfers in your leagues and have a great summer of golf at Hiawatha.

day and our girls did a good job of running hard and throwing hard. I had to leave to come back and drive a route in the afternoon and I parked not very close to the entrance so a good walk for this old guy. I thought buses were going to park in this certain area down a street when all of a sudden there were cars in front of me and behind me but I had just enough room to get out when I had to but I did watch some jumping events and throwing too and as I watched the boys shot put they had some huge kids throwing from a lot of the bigger schools from Rapid City, Aberdeen and cities around Sioux Falls too and I thought we need some of them to come play football for the C-Hawks but not sure I convinced any of them to join us here in Canton. Good job to Jarym Warejcka for placing first in the 100 hurdles and long jump and the only awards they handed out was a t shirt for the 1st place winner so Jaryn came home with a couple, great job. We did good as a team with a lot of placewinners in the Class A division.

One last weather comment and I hope the weather can cooperate with our girls golf team as they are getting some matches in and before you know it, its Regions time so lets get some play and then get qualified for state. I hear Jeff Keyman is retiring this year and lets hope we can find a good golf coach to replace Jeff cause I think he has had a good program for many years and lets face it if you look up to our banners in the gym he has coached the only girls title we have ever had so he did a good job. I have an idea about his replacement so if the school wants my advice go ahead and let me know and I will tell you my choice and if it works out we could make that a habit to make things work smoothly at Canton High School. Free of charge just for you guys.

Track is on the part of their season where we are trying to get a lot of meets in that have been postponed and you will have to check the schools web site to see where they are going and when so good luck trying to get everything finished up till we head to Sioux Falls for the State Meet the end of May. I drove bus to O'Gorman on Friday for a track meet and it was a huge meet as buses everywhere and track kids packing every race but it was a nice

100 Years go This Month: Historical events from May 2024

The month of May has been home to many historical events over the years. Here's a look at some that helped to shape the world in May 1924.

- Iodized salt is introduced in the United States on May 1. Iodized salt is now used in table salt across the globe, and its introduction to the U.S. is credited to Canadian-born pediatrician David Murray Cowie, who ultimately persuaded various salt retailers to utilize iodized salt to combat health problems, including goiters, that were linked to existing salts.
- Russian aviator and schoolteacher Zinaida Kokorina makes her first solo flight on May 3. Kokorina is the first woman pilot in military history.
- Erich Ludendorff is elected to the Reichstag in Germany on May 4. Ludendorff ran under the banner of the National Socialist Freedom Movement, which was standing in for the banned Nazi Party.
- Sophie Lyons is murdered in Detroit on May 8 at age 75. Lyons was a notorious criminal in the post-American Civil War era, but abandoned her criminal life and spent her later years supporting causes related to the rehabilitation of juvenile delinquents. On the day of her death, Lyons allowed three men into her home, likely hoping to rehabilitate them. However, the men refused her help, ransacked her home and killed her.
- On May 10, 29-year-old lawyer J. Edgar Hoover becomes Acting Director of the Bureau of Investigation, which would eventually become the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). Hoover would remain in the post until his death from a heart attack in 1972.
- Prohibition ends in Alberta, Canada, on May 12 when two government-owned liquor stores open in the province.
- Former Ontario treasurer Peter Smith and financier Aemilius

Jarvis are arrested on May 13. Each man is charged with theft and conspiracy to defraud the provincial government in what became known as the Ontario Bond Scandal. Smith and Jarvis are ultimately acquitted of theft and fraud, but both are found guilty of conspiracy.

- On May 14, a committee of the Methodist church recommends that the church never again participate in any type of warfare. The committee, convened in Massachusetts, votes 76 to 37 in favor of the church never engaging in warfare under any type of circumstances, including self-defense.
- The wooden roller coaster The Joseph Stalin and Leon Trotsky opens in Moscow on May 23. The Thirteenth Congress of the Communist Party is the first conference since the death of First Secretary Vladimir Lenin roughly five months earlier.

- Beulah Annan is acquitted of murder in Chicago on May 25. Annan shot and killed her lover Harry Kalstedt, and her ultimately sensationalized trial ended in acquittal when it was determined she acted in self-defense. The story eventually inspired the play "Chicago," which has since been adapted into films as well.
- The Battle of Turubah is fought

Giant Dipper opens at Santa Cruz Beach Boardwalk on May 17. In July 2012, the park celebrated the 60 millionth rider to ride The Giant Dipper, which is now a National Historic Landmark.

- On May 19, the American Telephone and Telegraph Company uses telephone lines to transmit images for the first time. Over a two-hour period, the firm transmits 15 photographs from its office in Cleveland to company headquarters in New York City.
- Fourteen-year-old Bobby Franks is kidnapped on May 21 in Chicago. Franks's parents receive a ransom note demanding $10,000 on May 22, but the boy's body is discovered near Wolf Lake before any money is paid. Nathan Leopold, Jr. and Richard Loeb confess to the murder on May 31.
- A nine-day conference that becomes a power struggle between Soviet Communist Party leaders on May 26 between the Kingdom of Hejaz and the Sultanate of Nejd. The battle would ultimately determine the fate of the region that would become Saudi Arabia.

- The United States Border Patrol is created on May 28 to prevent illegal entry into the United States from Mexico and Canada.
- A munitions depot explodes in Bucharest on May 29. The explosion shakes the city, causes damage to the royal palace and claims the lives of many.
- Italian politician Giacomo Matteotti is shouted down as he protests the outcome of the previous month's election during a speech at the Chamber of Deputies on May 30. Matteotti claims the Fascist Party employed intimidation tactics to win the election. The 39-year-old socialist leader is kidnapped and murdered by the Fascists' secret police 11 days after delivering his speech.

Good Samaritans Step in to Help in Time of Need

How does someone convey gratitude in times of great peril? Answer: By letting the public know there's a Good Samaritan in our midst! It started the first week of April when I survived the tragic loss of my older sister. On top of grieving, I ended up having a medical emergency of my own! We all remember the day last week on April 8th when the winds were 50 to 60 miles an hour and it almost felt like your roof wanted to take flight. I was in good company that day when a friend decided to check in on me for a cup of coffee. We had just poured coffee and been two sips in with a bite of chocolate cake. That was when we heard a loud crash and what sounded like the side of the house being ripped apart. Instantly the power went out and we ran outside! With winds that day being over 50mph, it was the dead tree on our property line that fell. Ripping down all of our electric lines, including our meter right off the house. The incident took out the entire neighborhood's electricity, but I am blessed to say that no one was injured in the process. Canton's emergency response team did a great job and made sure no one was hurt by the live electric lines lying in the street. The utility companies worked fast to get power restored to the block. Heartland Electric made themselves available quickly on both Saturday and Sunday to make sure that power was restored to our home.

But now what do we do about the tree? It was then a stranger pulled up, a Good Samaritan stopped to say hello. This kind gentleman told me not to worry about the tree, and that he would help us clean it up. I had never interacted with this person before, but I came to find out that he only lived a few blocks down from me, he introduced himself as Kris. Instead of my husband and I tackling that massive task alone, Kris pulled up that Sunday to work alongside us and made a job that was going to take us four days only two hours! His kindness is a blessing I could never repay. I learned a lot that day about my neighbor only a few blocks down. It ended up being Kris York, one of our city commissioners and owner of Arrow Tree Services. Kris is one of the young men tackling Canton's issues to make this town what it needs to be: to thrive and not just survive. We have a few more trees on our property that could use some attention and Arrow Tree Service will be the first place that I call. Supporting local businesses means a lot to me. So if you are looking for a tree service this year that will work with you, and your budget, and want to support local businesses in Canton, I can't suggest them enough. Thank you again, Kris, for what you are doing for our town and as a neighbor. If we had a Good Samaritan award nomination, it definitely would be yours this year!

The Hawks ran in the 4x100 relay and finished in a time of 46.18 with the team of Carson Metzger, Cain Wallner, Julius Moore and Landon Dominisse, which put them in the 18th spot which was less than 2 seconds off the winning time. The Dakota 12 conference had 6 teams finish in the top 18 with Dell Rapids winning with West Central, Vermillion, Tri Valley, Tea and Sioux Falls Christian finishing just ahead of the C-Hawks. Then in the 4x200 the Hawks finished 17th with a time of 1:35.30 which was a personal record for the team this year and the team of Carson Metzger, Eli Anderson, Julius Moore and Landon Dominisse.
