Innovation Storage Condos Holds Ribbon Cutting

Pictured at right is the inside of each unit. There is a small room to use as an office along with a bathroom. Every unit has a large garage door, electricity, heat, water and sewer.

Innovation Storage Condos is located at 506 West Industrial Road on the edge of Canton. For more information email or call David Wurtz Davidwurtzjr@gmail.com or 605-988-4177.

A ribbon cutting was held last Thursday for Innovation Storage Condos. David Wurtz decided to build these units to help small business owners have a place for their shops. "I originally built these because I needed a place for a shop myself," said Wurtz. Right now there is two units to be rented out with a goal to add more in the future.

David is the owner of Wurtz Construction which does pole buildings, steel roofing and more. He has also done several other projects in the area before this one.

"New Loop" of Life for Tyler Halverson

By: Kala Hazelhoff

Canton's very own Tyler Halverson is making his name down his own path in the country music world. On April 16th, 2024, Halverson had his Grand Ole Opry debut. For country music stars, this is known as a milestone moment in their careers. Halverson was joined by his family, including his seven younger siblings, parents, grandparents, and other excited and proud family members.

"It's definitely been a long road for him, but it's been fun to watch him chase his dreams and support him through all of it!! His crazy life has some perks to it! Like being backstage at big concerts and meeting cool people along the way!!" -Mackenzie Halverson

After attending Belmont College in Nashville and graduating, Halverson took to the road with his songwriting and playing. After several independent releases, he was signed with Atlantic Records in 2023. As of June 10th, 2023, Halverson signed with Concord for his first publishing deal.

His latest single "New Loop" was recently released on the "Twisters" soundtrack. Halverson's name joins the soundtrack along with country music powerhouses such as Miranda Lambert, Jelly Roll, Tyler Childs, Thomas Rhett, Kane Brown, Lainey Wilson, and Luke Combs to name a few. He will have more singles releasing throughout the rest of the year, with the next song "Closer" coming out August 2nd.

Q&A

-How did you feel when you had your Grand Ole Opry debut?

It was humbling and surreal all at the same time. When you think about who has stepped foot in that circle before you, you can't help but feel how heavy and exciting that is. The Opry was a place my parents and I had been to when visiting Nashville and the dream was always to wind up there. It was a full circle moment to say the least.

-What was it like having all your family there to celebrate your debut with you?

Having my family there was everything! I've missed enough holidays, birthdays, weddings, funerals and what else have you to chase this dream down. And that night was just as much theirs as it was mine. I'd be nowhere without the support of my family. It never gets easier being away from the people you love, so when they're there to share it with me, it just makes it all that much better. I just hope it shows my brothers and sisters to find the gift God gave you and to use it.

-Any upcoming tours with other artists?

We have shows coming up with artists like Turnpike Troubadours, Muscadine Bloodline, and Midland. But truthfully, we try and stay on the road headlining our own clubs. I'll always take a couple hundred of my own fans than a couple thousand of somebody else's. The fire grows quicker that way.

-What is your favorite part of touring?

Seeing all the beautiful country God made and meeting all the wonderful people still out there.

-How does it feel to have your name and song on a movie soundtrack?

I think it's a tip of the hat saying things are headed in the right direction. Things are looking up, but there's still plenty of work to be done.

Thank you

We at Companion Animal Clinic just wanted to take the opportunity to thank some people after being named Business of the Year at the annual Canton Chamber of Commerce meeting last month. It is humbling to receive such an honor, as we realize there are so many deserving businesses in Canton that were no doubt considered. We would like to thank the Chamber of Commerce for recognizing our efforts.

We would also like to thank our staff for their dedication, loyalty, and hard work over the past years. They treat every patient as if it was one of their own and take great pride in their work. Having a competent, conscientious staff is truly a blessing...we veterinarians often get the credit, but there's no way we could succeed without our devoted staff. We'd like to especially recognize our long-time staff members, Jodi (22 years), Deb (recently retired, after 17 years), Shannon (13 years), and Andrea (9 years).

Finally, we wish to express our gratitude to the residents of Canton. We truly appreciate you putting your trust in us to care for your pets. As many of you may remember, we started out as a boarding business in 1998, then began providing veterinary services in 2004. Our veterinary clinic started out quite humbly that first year--we initially had just one multi-purpose room that we used for exams, treatment, laboratory, surgery, and grooming! Yet the people of Canton supported and encouraged us from that first day, and we can't thank you enough. We count ourselves blessed to be a part of this community!

Thank You for Supporting Safety at Highway 81 & Highway 18 Intersection [Meridian Corner]

Thank you Abby Streyle, Roland Svartoi, Jeremy Waltner, Mike Miller, EMTs, city ambulance services, fire departments, local law enforcement SD Highway Patrol, Hutchinson County Sheriff's Department, elected officials, petition carriers, 1200 petition signers and everyone who helped convince the South Dakota Dept. of Transportation to expedite the construction of a four way stop at the dangerous Hwy 81 & 18 intersection.

This is what happens when "we" work together for something we can all agree on. This was not a "me" or "I" issue. It was clearly a WE CAN DO THIS ISSUE!

We can never bring back the lives lost, erase the injuries or reduce the suffering that occurred at this intersection but we took a big step in reducing the potential of vehicle accidents, loss of life and injuries at this location in the future. Also, thank you South Dakota Department of Transportation for being proactive and taking this issue seriously.

Please turn in any signed petitions to Abby Streyle at Meridian Corner or me so we can get a final count. Again, thank you to everyone for your cooperative efforts and sticking together to do what is right and good for the travelers of Hwys. 81 & 18. in Southeast South Dakota.

A Dangerous World Calls for a Strong America

By Sen. John Thune

I often say, "If we don't get national security right, the rest is just conversation." In just the last year, we've seen our ally Israel come under attack from terrorists, and our own military has been attacked by Iran-backed militias 170 times, all while Russia and China continue their campaigns of aggression and strengthen their alliance with one another. Times like these underscore the need for American strength.

The reality is that we are not as prepared as we should be to address these threats. The weakness that the Biden-Harris administration has shown on the world stage has emboldened our adversaries. At the same time, our military readiness is not where it needs to be to deter aggression. We have service branches that are below their recruitment targets. We have planes that can't fly and ships that can't sail because of deferred maintenance. And we have shortages of munitions and weapons.

Last month, my colleagues on the Senate Armed Services Committee put forward a National Defense Authorization Act for next year that takes steps to address the challenges we're facing. It fully funds deterrence initiatives and strengthens partnerships to counter Russia and China. It makes critical efforts to modernize military technologies and strategies that will define tomorrow's conflicts. And it authorizes the purchase of new combat vessels, vehicles, and aircraft to upgrade our aging fleets.

I'm particularly proud to report that this bill includes full funding for the next steps of the B-21 mission, including necessary support facilities. The Air Force calls this new plane the future backbone of its bomber force, and I am incredibly proud that its first mission will be hosted at South Dakota's own Ellsworth Air Force Base. One of my top priorities is making sure that Ellsworth has everything it needs for this critical advancement in our nation's defense.

The annual defense bill is one of the most important pieces of legislation we consider each year. I believe there should be a sense of urgency about getting it to the floor. My colleague Sen. Roger Wicker (R-Miss.) recently released a blueprint for making a generational investment in our military. He noted that our defense budget as a share of our economy has fallen to near record lows, and he proposes a defense buildup similar to President Reagan's initiative in the 1980s.

We have no time to waste to build up our military, and the first step is getting this year's defense bill passed in a timely manner. History has shown that weakness invites aggression. The strength of our military is the surest way we have of securing peace, and it must be a priority.

before it had a chance to spread.

Neighbors and friends arrived at Joe Welter farm after dinner on Monday, July 29 to finish combining about 30 acres of oats. Six combines moved through the field and finished by 3:30. Nearby farmers also furnished two balers, eight tractors, several trailers, three elevators and three trucks. After completing the job, Taylor Oil Company, Sioux Falls, filled the farmers equipment with fuel.

MEMORY LANE
The Canton Area Car Show experienced one of its biggest years since it was started seven years ago. The annual one-day car show featured hundreds of cars, trucks, motorcycles and even a few vehicles that may not be classified in those categories. With thousands in attendance, the show was a resounding success this year. From the Friday events though Sunday events, there were plenty of chances for entertainment in Canton.
The Bergstrom-Bodeen American Legion Post in Hudson was awarded the "Pride of the Prairie" White Buffalo award at the American Legion State Convention held in Pierre June 19-22.
History often leaves behind tales captured in photographs and those of the memories of the people that lived through times, offering unique perspectives of points in time that otherwise would be forgotten. Corky Minor and Joyce Miles have been working diligently for years to preserve the history of the Beloit Children's Home, commonly known as the Beloit Orphanage. In just two weeks, the duo will host the 150th Anniversary of the Iowa Orphanage's reunion right here in Canton.

The Canton airport gave free rides to those people who attended the "fly in breakfast" that they hosted. Anyone who purchased breakfast there could have a chance to take a ride in the skies with their family. Mostly everyone who bought breakfast took this opportunity.

A bridge one mile south and 1/2 mile west of Canton's west city limits was the scene of an accident as a gravel truck driven by Herman Westphal, Balaton, Minnesota, fell through the bridge. Extensive damage was incurred upon the truck which was loaded with gravel. The bridge collapsed and at the present time is closed. No injury was reported by Westphal.

HISTORY REVISITED FOLK FESTIVAL EDITION

By Gaynor Johnson

It's always been a tough sell getting folks to attend the Sioux River Folk Festival that have never gone to it before. Apparently some people still think that all they're going to hear is a solo act or maybe a trio with a guitar or two and maybe a banjo singing old Peter, Paul and Mary songs. Well, there is nothing wrong with that but our folk festival is much, much more than it's title proclaims. Just reading through our brochure, that has bios on all of the thirteen main acts, the following descriptions of their music gives one a pretty good idea what this festival is all about.

“progressive- acoustic boy band”
 “a mix of Celtic and classical”
 “alternative rock played on acoustic instruments”
 “experimental jam- grass act”
 “Shake your hips instrumental flair”
 “fast picking bluegrass runs”
 “classic Americana”
 “outlaw country”
 “traditional folk”
 “a warm and wondrous acoustic sound”
 “soulful lyrics with tight three part harmonies”
 “hillbilly hollers, borderland ballads and sassy country blues”
 “high and lonesome”
 “music from America's Big Band era”
 “jazz rifts and lyrics that express optimism”
 “artists covered include James Taylor, Gordon Lightfoot, Tom Petty, Richard Thompson, Don McLean and Bob Dylan”

So, if something you just read sounds like something you'd be interested in hearing live in the beautiful outdoor setting of Newton Hills State Park you may want to purchase a ticket and attend. Tickets are available at Canton Home and Farm, Calico Skies Winery, Newton Hills State Park office and at the gate.

Children 14 and younger are admitted free and leashed dogs are welcomed. This event is handicap accessible with parking near the concert site.

Before I sign off, I'd just like to thank the Sioux Valley News for helping advertise this event, the SD Arts Council for funding, all our local sponsors and most of all the great staff at Newton Hills State Park. These folks go way above and beyond their job descriptions before, during and after the festival.

This and their Festifall in early October are their biggest and busiest weekends of the year and they always seem to make it look like its no big deal. If you attend the festival, please let them know you appreciate all the extra work they put into making our three day event run so smoothly.

I will leave you with a short bio of John Hartford taken from a CD. He was the most well-known act the Sioux River Folk Festival has ever booked. It was 1993 when John performed. The Rocky Mountain Oysters, a Sioux Falls based bluegrass band, ended up being his backing band for his evening show. Their banjo player switched over to saxophone and turned this show into something so incredible that words simply can't describe it. If we are lucky maybe something similar will happen this weekend. Happy reading.

Last Thursday the Canton Public Library and Canton Latchkey worked to bring Hooked on Science, and what a presentation. It certainly got me excited about science with all the “experiments” we witnessed with regular household items. We hope you have been enjoying all the events about Celebrate Canton. We enjoyed Arts in the Park on Monday evening, the hydrant party at Lawrence Elementary School on Tuesday, the bike rodeo on Wednesday, and Town and Country Day on Thursday. Saturday in the Park and the Canton Car Show for the Generations promise to be full of fun for everyone. It is community events like these, and our vibrant public library, that will encourage young families to live in Canton.

From Classic Bluegrass, Vol. 2 from Smithsonian Folkways Recordings released in 2005

John Hartford (1937-2001) had a long and varied musical career. He was born in New York City, but grew up near the Mississippi River, which would have a profound influence on him. He was signed to RCA Records in Nashville in 1966 as a country singer and songwriter in the mold of his fellow-travelers on the scene, like Kris Kristofferson and Mickey Newbury. One of his compositions from that period, “Gentle on My Mind,” although first recorded by Hartford, became a huge national hit for Glen Campbell. Hartford moved to Los Angeles and appeared as a musician on “The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour” and “The Glen Campbell Goodtime Hour.” Eventually, the yearly royalties from “Gentle on My Mind” allowed him to pursue his own music.

Back in Nashville, Hartford began to play bluegrass and traditional country music with Norman Blake, Tut Taylor, Jimmy Martin, Lester Flatt, and other Nashville musicians. Most of the material he recorded in the 1970s and 80s was released on the Flying Fish label. He also began to establish a unique style, frequently performing solo with fiddle (while clogging) or banjo, wearing a black vest and bowler hat. All these playing styles were incorporated into his subsequent recordings. In his final years, he recorded albums for Rounder Records with Bob Carlin, and compiled recordings of traditional material by some of his musical heros.

Many of Hartford's own songs deal with the Mississippi River and steamboats. He obtained a steamboat license and helped operate a steamboat ride in Nashville.

The Ringing Bell of Liberty

By: Gov. Kristi Noem
 July 26, 2024

When anti-American criminals tear down our statues, deface our monuments, or burn our flag, we must hold them to account for their vile actions. This past week, anti-American criminals defaced the Washington D.C. replica of the Liberty Bell in the name of violence and hatred, writing “Hamas is coming” and other far more vulgar statements.

In 1776, when our Founding Fathers first declared independence from Great Britain, a bell in the tower of what would later be called Independence Hall rang out to summon the citizens of Philadelphia to gather. They would hear for the very first time the Declaration of Independence read aloud in public.

Colonel John Nixon, who was in command of the Philadelphia city guard, read aloud those immortal words, “that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.”

Inspired by those words, Americans fought and died to defend them and to make them true here at home. In the decades and centuries since, many nations around the world have been similarly inspired, taking to heart that simple yet revolutionary claim “that all men are created equal.”

The bell that rung that day became a symbol of the liberty that the Declaration of Independence proclaimed: the Liberty Bell. Inscribed on the bell is the beautiful phrase, “Proclaim Liberty throughout all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof.”

In Washington D.C., the center of the federal government that the Declaration proclaims was instituted

“to secure these rights,” a replica of the Liberty Bell was installed so that the leaders of our nation would never forget the purpose for which they hold elected office.

11 years after the Liberty Bell rang out to herald the reading of the Declaration of Independence, it rang again for another solemn occasion: the signing of the United States Constitution. Although it wasn't in the original text, that Constitution established the First Amendment, which provided for “the right of the people peaceably to assemble.” It created no right to violently protest, deface public property, or espouse violence and genocide against an entire people.

Symbols have meaning, not merely because they exist, but because of what they symbolize. Statues honoring our leaders matter, not because they were better than anyone else, but because of the importance of their actions and what they symbolize.

The Liberty Bell symbolizes perhaps the two most important political documents ever written. In fact, the only document that I hold in higher regard is the Bible itself. In so defacing it, these criminals rejected the foundational truths that those documents proclaim. They defaced not just a bell, but the core principles that make the United States of America more than just a shape on a map – the principles that make us the greatest nation the world has ever known.

The American colonists were fighting for their right to exist as a free and independent nation. Today, the Israeli people are similarly fighting for their right to exist. And these pro-Hamas, anti-American criminals want them wiped off the face of the earth.

South Dakota will not stand for it. We will continue to speak out against hate. We will continue to proclaim the blessings of America. And we will forever celebrate “that all men are created equal” – and protect it with everything that we have.

This probably a rare picture because it was taken from the middle period of the big flood around June 23rd over the east side of Lake Alvin flooding over the north and south country highway. This was taken from the air by either an expensive drone flying or from an air plane. It looks like one big river flowing over the highway and destroying the eastside of that highway. The spillway entrance can be seen in lower left corner on the parking lot. In 2014 the nine-mile creek only flooded up to the west edge of this highway and this flood broke all historical records. OFF The Road With Jerry

This 2008 photo shows a successful car show weekend in Canton. This first photo was taken up in the park by the pool. One of the weekend activities was a little Miss Canton contest. Samantha Feucht won 1st place. Other local girls joined her in the parade in classic cars on Saturday.

This downtown scene showed a large crowd walking thru the rows of cars. Pleasant weather always made it better. There was a good selection of food and craft vendors down town.

Some really exotic cars came from a distance to display in the show downtown. This car had " Gull-little" wing doors. Trophies were handed out after the end of the show. Little miss and Junior Miss handed the trophies to the winners.

This is the laid back relaxing area north of Jack Fox Park where there was plenty of room for even large crowds to stroll and look. Many classic car owners sat back behind their cars in lawn chairs in the shade and offered a lot of information. I always put my 64 Chevy Convertible in, but since I worked in the car show did not sit with my cars. In the recent Canton Sioux Valley News a piece of history was somehow omitted the local car club of Lincoln County Cruisers was never mentioned. The Cruisers continued the Car Show in Canton for the next several years. The had several shows in Canton, which is all on record. They continued for several years until the world around us changed and almost every town had car shows and there was no way for us to compete. The Lincoln County Cruisers gave money away to local non-profits - such as the Canton Ambulance and Fire Department. The cruisers decided to stop because it was harder to get volunteers and the rising cost of liability insurance. With all the free competition from every other town around the Cruisers could not compete and had to shut it down. Inwood, Larchwood and even Alvord had free Burnout shows right in their downtown. It could not be done here because Highway 18 is a major highway and could not be closed.

Windmill Of My Mind

by Margaret Schultz

Well, I did it. I turned eighty years old over the weekend. Even as I type this, it does not seem possible. I don't know how eighty is supposed to feel, or how I am supposed to act, but I don't feel old. Physically, I have some issues, but those could happen to a young person, too. I am thankful to still be here and to have all the family and friends that I have. Life has been extremely good to me. I cannot complain, or at least, I shouldn't. I feel very blessed.

I'm not one for big celebrations where I would be the center of attention, so we just had a family celebration at our home on Saturday. Our children brought all the food and I didn't have to do a thing. We had such a fun time. We were able to do a lot of visiting, a great deal of laughing, hugging and sharing. The gifts I received were much too generous, but I loved every one of them. The wishes I received on Facebook, through text messages, Facetime calls, cards, and phone calls were awesome. I fell asleep last night happily exhausted, smiling and counting my blessings.

There is so much unrest in our country and in the world, in general, that I almost feel guilty. Wars, famine, political mudslinging, crime – the list goes on and on. The most we can do is pray for all those things and given what we can to alleviate hunger and starving children. I cannot imagine what it would be like to not believe in a God who cares for and loves us, even in the face of so much suffering. It does require faith. Yes, it does.

Thank you to all my friends and family for the love you have shown me and the joy you have brought into my life. I thank each day for all of you.

Financial Focus

Look for different ways to borrow and use credit

Like most Americans, you will probably take on debt at some point in your life. And by managing debt wisely, you can potentially improve your saving and spending habits – and even your ability to invest for the future.

Let's look at some of the common options available for borrowing and using credit:

- Credit card – When used carefully – and not over-used – a credit card can be a valuable tool, especially if you travel frequently. Many people tend to stick with the same credit card without exploring what else is out there. Try to find a card that rewards you in as many ways as possible – and then keep your eyes open occasionally for even better rewards as they can change from time to time. Obviously, you want a card with a low interest rate, although ideally, you'd like to pay the card off each month without incurring any interest. You also should take a close look at a card's other features. Are you getting a competitive amount of mileage points? How much is your annual fee? Do you have a generous "cash back" program? Do you have access to "extras," such as airport lounges?
- Home equity loans and home

equity lines of credit – As the names suggest, a home equity loan or line of credit lets you tap into the equity you've built up in your home, which can be considerable, especially if you've owned your home for a long time. A home equity loan provides you with a lump sum, which you will repay over a set term with a fixed interest rate. A home equity line of credit usually carries a variable rate, although you might find a lender offering a fixed-rate option. You can generally draw on your loan or line of credit for any purpose, but keep in mind that unless you're using the funds for home improvements or additions, your interest payments are generally not tax deductible.

• Securities-based lending – Just as a home equity line of credit lets you borrow against the equity in your home, a securities-based loan, such as a margin loan, lets you borrow against the value of your investments, including stocks, exchange traded funds and mutual funds. Some people take out margin loans to purchase more investments, but you can use the money for any purpose. The margin loan process is usually not complex and when you make repayments, you're paying yourself back. However, you should approach a margin loan with caution because if you borrow too much, the value of your margin account may fall below the maintenance requirement – the minimum dollar amount you must keep in your margin account after you've started taking money out. When this happens, your brokerage institution may issue a maintenance call that requires you to either deposit more money or marginable securities or sell some of the investments in your account.

Ultimately, when weighing your borrowing and credit options, you'll want to evaluate several factors: the interest rate you'll be paying, the purpose for taking on the debt, your ability to repay it without impinging on your cash flow, and so on. With careful thought and planning, and, if needed, help from a financial professional, you can make your debt work for you – and not the other way around.

Delivering Wins for Indian Country

BIG Update

The assassination attempt on President Trump is a very serious act that should not be overlooked. Congress is working to get to the bottom of this. The House held committee hearings this week to get answers about what happened at the rally in Pennsylvania. The hearings resulted in Kimberly Cheatle stepping down from her position as Director of the Secret Service, after members on both sides of the aisle called for her resignation.

I voted to establish a special task force to investigate and identify ways to strengthen security measures. The bipartisan task force passed the House unanimously – all members agree that we can't let this major security failure ever happen again.

BIG Idea

In South Dakota, the average life expectancy is 78 years old. But, for Native American enrolled members on the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation, it's 58 years. That's a remarkable 20-year gap. One of the reasons for that is the poor quality of health care in Indian country. The federal government has trust and treaty obligations to address this, but the quality of care is second class. The Indian Health Service (IHS) faces a lack of oversight, questionable financial integrity, staffing needs, and employee shortcomings.

I introduced the Restoring Accountability in the IHS Act to improve the delivery of care for Native Americans relying on IHS by promoting the recruitment and retention of staff, best practices on information-sharing, cultural awareness, and accountability.

This week, I testified in the House Natural Resources Committee on my bill to improve service for Indian country.

BIG News

The public safety crisis on Indian reservations is serious. Tribal law enforcement agencies are faced with a lack of resources and officers, contributing to long response times and insufficient safety. I've requested additional funding for tribal law enforcement, field hearings in Indian country, and introduced legislation to ease the burden on tribal law enforcement.

This week, the House passed the appropriations bill for the Department of Interior which oversees tribal safety programs within the Bureau of Indian Affairs. I fought hard to get an increase in funding, and this package included the following:

$2.81 billion for the Bureau of Indian Affairs – a 14.5% increase from the FY24 enacted level – which includes:

$746 million for Public Safety and Justice programs – a 34% increase from the FY24 enacted level.

$414 million for Criminal Investigations and Police Service – a 51% increase from the FY24 enacted level.

$55 million for Tribal Courts – an 18% increase from the FY24 enacted level.

Fiscal responsibility is important, so I'm glad these funding increases are done without raising the cost of the bill. We made significant cuts elsewhere to provide resources for essential safety programs. This is a huge win for Indian country.

South Dakota Submits Official Request for Presidential Disaster Declaration

PIERRE, S.D. – Today, Governor Kristi Noem formally requested a major disaster declaration from the President for 25 counties due to the severe flooding that occurred in South Dakota between June 16 and July 8, 2024. Governor Noem signed Executive Order 2024-06 declaring the disaster. According to the National Weather Service, the rain event that created this flooding was a 1,000-year event (see Image 1 below).

Today, we are submitting our request for a presidential disaster declaration to address the damage from a historic 1,000-year flood that impacted South Dakota," said Governor Kristi Noem. "We have been working with families, local governments and officials, and FEMA for weeks to assess the damage. I am so proud of what South Dakotans have been able to do to start piecing our communities back together."

In the aftermath of the flooding, teams from the Office of Emergency Management (OEM) and the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) have been on the ground conducting thorough damage assessments across the impacted areas, working closely to assess the extent of the damage and coordinate the necessary response efforts.

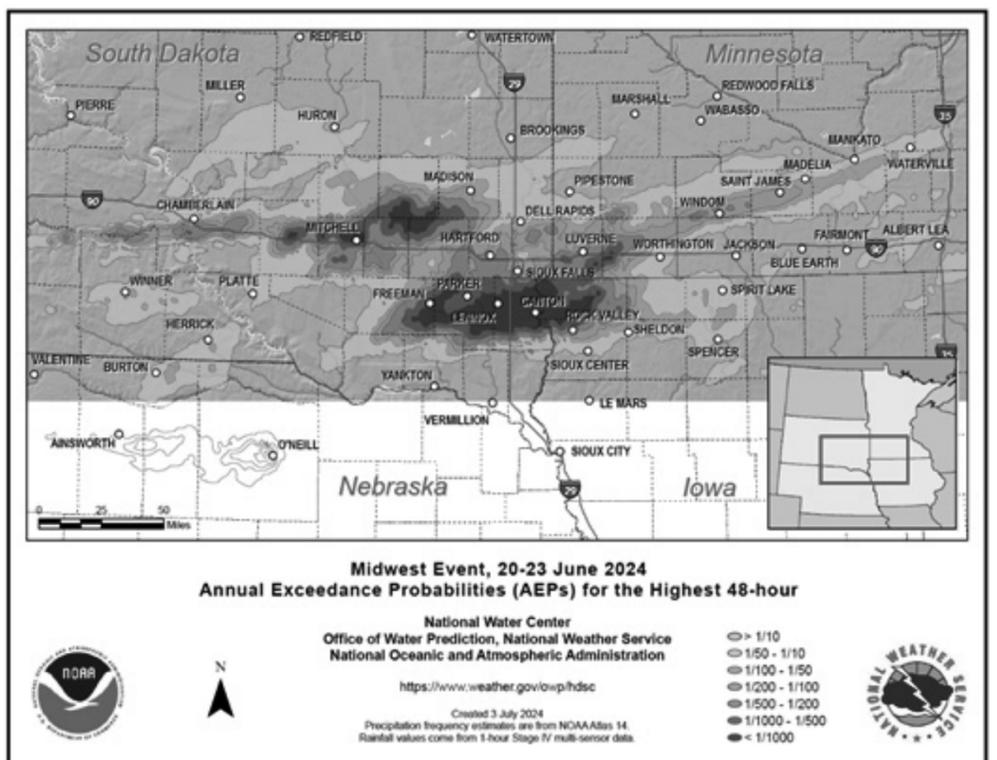

"This thorough damage assessment was normal protocol for a presidential disaster declaration, and it's an important part of the process to make sure all eligible counties and citizens are included," said Kristi Turman, Director of the Division of Emergency Services at the South Dakota Department of Public Safety.

During the flood, at least 11 river gauges hit new preliminary record-high levels. The Big Sioux River at Sioux City crested nearly eight feet higher than previous records. New record crests were set at the following locations:

- Big Sioux River at Canton, Hawarden, Akron, Richland, Jefferson, and Sioux City;
- Vermillion River at Davis, Wakonda, and Vermillion;
- West Fork Vermillion River at Parker; and
- Turkey Ridge Creek at Centerville.

The request for a presidential disaster declaration highlights a critical need in the following South Dakota counties: Aurora, Bennett, Bon Homme, Brule, Buffalo, Charles Mix, Clay, Davison, Douglas, Gregory, Hand, Hanson, Hutchinson, Jackson, Lake, Lincoln, McCook, Miner, Minnehaha, Moody, Sanborn, Tripp, Turner, Union, and Yankton.

High Horse

High Horse is a progressive-acoustic boy band featuring four friends, three bows, and one pick. A mix of Celtic and classical music, it's a band of brothers playing alternative rock on acoustic instruments, it's a rollicking romp of great vibes, virtuosic chops, and tight vocals.

Comprised of fiddler Carson McHaney, cellist Karl Henry, guitarist G Rockwell, and bassist Noah Harrington; the band draws from their varied musical backgrounds to explore and perform original compositions and tunes from diverse folk traditions. High Horse is based in Boston, collecting the skills and artistry learned from their education at the Berklee College of Music and New England Conservatory.

Their debut album will be released in 2024, produced by world-renowned mandolinist Jacob Jolliff and engineered by sound wizard Dave Sinko.

Feed The Dog

Feed The Dog is an eclectic and action-packed, experimental jam-grass act. The Midwest based 4 piece masterfully blends soul pleasing songwriting rich in imagery and storytelling with a genre bending, shake-your-hips, instrumental flair. Their high energy performances are driven by the unique and progressive approach of each player: imaginative melodies with graceful ambience skillfully crafted on the violin, tireless beats both dynamic and soulful confidently assembled on the drums, driving low end with finesse and intention forged on the bass guitar, and unique approach to playing the acoustic guitar blending fast picking bluegrass runs with the strength of blues and rock to evoke an emotional contrast between melancholy and hopeful.

Clover Fold

Hailing from the collision of southeast South Dakota and southwest Minnesota, The Clover Fold is a six-piece songwriting cooperative of multi-instrumentalists whose personal tales and collective songs are forged in the lush humid heat of Midwest summers and quenched in the bleak bitter freeze of Great Plains winters.

Original songs sharing unique perspectives on the age old topics of life, love, and loss are richly layered in full harmonies while aspects of classic Americana, outlaw country, and traditional folk weave throughout. Having performed together on a number of premiere stages over the years in a complex Venn Diagram of different regional acts, this line-up fully formed in 2021, with 2024 bringing the release of their first album "Windfall." Keep in touch at www.thecloverfold.com.

Brennen Leigh

Brennen Leigh is an American songwriter, guitar player, mandolin player and singer whose to-the-point storytelling style has elevated her to cult icon status in Europe, Scandinavia, across the United States, South America and the United Kingdom. Her songs have been recorded by Lee Ann Womack, Rodney Crowell, Sunny Sweeney, Charley Crockett, and many others. As renowned for her musicianship as for her writing, it's easy to see how Leigh caught the ear of greats like Guy Clark, who colorfully endorsed her flatpicking: "Brennen Leigh plays guitar like a mother....," and David Olney, who described her writing as "tender, violent, sentimental, foolish and wise, she is always Brennen. Confident and at ease with herself, without being a jerk about it."

Lexi McGee

Lexi McGee is a Sioux Falls native that brings a warm and wondrous acoustic sound that will fill your ears with many different genres of music. From winding down back country roads to upbeat beautiful melodies intertwined with songs she's personally written, you are bound to be taken on an unforgettable journey.

Maygen & The Birdwatcher

Maygen & The Birdwatcher's music is Americana that isn't afraid to embrace eclecticism, but it's also firmly rooted in folk and country. To achieve their rich, full sound, the band fills out the sonic details, with multi-instrumentalist Nik Pellinen adding banjo, lap steel and electric guitar. Along with bassist Chase Rabideau, who rounds out the bottom, mandolin player Jesse Moravec, who also contributes vocals, fiddle player Evin Haukos, and drummer-percussionist Peter Anderson create a new take on bluegrass-folk-country. It's a hyphenated hybrid that can come only from a seasoned—and tightly knit—band. It leaves music fans wanting to hear more as Maygen & The Birdwatcher leap forward this year, and take their original music to the next level. Maygen & The Birdwatcher have released two single tracks—"Full Moons (Leap Year Session)" and "Jericho" from their forthcoming Leap Year EP available August 2, 2024. Leap Year was recorded by Minnesota native, acclaimed artist and guitarist-extraordinaire, Erik Koskinen.

Maygen & The Birdwatcher are releasing their album at the Festival this year.

Tony Rook Band

Tony Rook Band is a five piece bluegrass band based out of Minneapolis and focused on original contemporary bluegrass music. The band consists of some of the finest pickers in the Midwest including Graham Sones on banjo, Tom Schaefer on fiddle, Liz Ashworth on mandolin and fiddle, Terry Johnson on bass, and Tony Rook on guitar. Their music contains soulful lyrics with tight three part harmonies and intricate instrumentation.

Lightweight Travelers

With a collective background that reaches deep into various folk styles, Jackson Magyar and Theresa Piela shape shift across the wild west of their minds. The Durango Colorado based duo have a flair for hillbilly hollers, borderland ballads, and sassy country blues. Though they began performing and writing songs together in 2023, their chemistry on stage and imaginative collaborations have led many to assume they are old friends. "There's a freedom and exuberance to their particular brand of Americana, rife with days-of-yore tales and just the right amount of high AND lonesome" -Alex Paul (Birds of Play). This year at Sioux River Folk Fest, Lightweight Travelers will enlist the help of a few surprise guests to take you on a quirky folk music journey where Theresa's luminous voice and Jackson's gritty instrumentation will be on full display.

Kenny Baker Tribute

GRAMMY-hopeful fiddle player Dr. Tom Schaefer has been praised as "a player of unlimited range and astonishing precision" by comedian-banjoist Steve Martin, who goes on to call Schaefer a player adept at "not only traditional bluegrass, but classical, rock and jazz oriented music." His new group, DOC SCHAEFER PLAYS KENNY BAKER PLAYS BILL MONROE, is the first complete South Dakotan adaptation of Kenny Baker's 1976 seminal recording of Bill Monroe instrumentals that is poised to take the bluegrass world by storm. The concept for the album first grew out of the word-play on the original album title, but the more Schaefer explored the idea, the more he realized that it was both musically exciting and challenging. Schaefer delved into the intricacies of Kenny Baker's fiddle playing and emerged with note for note versions of Baker's fiddle arrangements for fiddle. Joining Schaefer on this tour de force project are friends who also happen to be the finest instrumentalists in bluegrass: Graham Sones (Banjo), Tony Rook (guitar), Connor Pederson (mandolin), Liz Ashworth (mandolin), Travis Jamison (Bass).

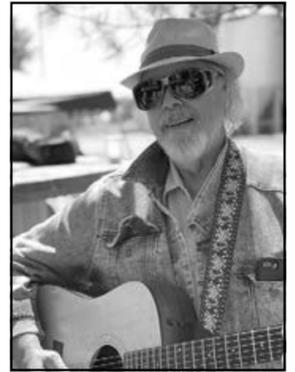

The Brass Holes

They're back! We needed to experience the full effect and we think you'll understand why. As they say, their mission is to celebrate the genius, legacy and power of the mighty brass instruments. They offer a unique and baffling blend of brass band and rock & roll bravado. Actually, they're not back...this year. But you will see them again in 2025!

The Public Domain Tune Band

The Public Domain Tune Band was formed 40 years ago by Nick Schwebach and Owen DeJong when they discovered their common interest in music from America's Big Band era. During the "Roaring 20's" America was inventing a new music identity based on Jazz rifts, lyrics that expressed optimism and the struggles of the pending depression, all set to a unique musical structure and rhythm. The music adapts to the Public Domain Band acoustic setting of Guitar, Violin, Sax, Bass, and Drums in the Jango Reinhardt musical tradition. The music and performance bring back the early days of radio broadcasting and recording.

Tommy Edwin

Tommy Edwin is a singer-songwriter currently based in Brookings, South Dakota. Tommy's repertoire includes original songs and a large selection of cover tunes focusing on singer-songwriters from the 60's and 70's as well as more contemporary material. Artists covered include James Taylor, Gordon Lightfoot, Tom Petty, Richard Thompson, Don McLean among others. Tommy also specializes in the music of Bob Dylan, covering a wide range of his recordings.

Mark Stuart

Mark Stuart spends every year as a full-time working artist and musician. Mostly performing his own unique shows, doing singer-songwriter concerts, he can be witnessed excelling as a band guitarist at hometown Nashville, Tennessee gigs or sessions, too. Stuart has toured extensively in the USA, Canada, United Kingdom and Europe. Notable artists such as Freddy Fender, Steve Earle, Joan Baez, and Steve Forbert have employed him for his musicianship. In a duo act with his artist wife, Stacey Earle, he spent thousands of days on tour through the years. That duo would release many albums on their own independent label, Gearle Records. Whether it be Cambridge Folk Festival, The Tonight Show with Jay Leno, MTV, Hardly Strictly Bluegrass Festival, Stan Rogers Folk Festival, Telluride Bluegrass Festival, Kerrville Folk Festival, Merlefest, or countless small festivals and theaters, Stuart's storytelling, guitar playing, vocals, or songs have caught the attention of music lovers. When asked to define Mark Stuart's music it is virtually impossible, as his versatility screams out loud. Rock, blues, folk, country, and more are evident in his performance. Electric, acoustic, slide guitar-all make up his musical toolbox. Travis-style, Chicago blues, honky tonk country, finger-style folk-all are there when you hear him.

Tony Moger

Rain may have moved our Campground Contest to the Canton PAC last year, but it certainly didn't dampen the competition. We ended up with more contestants than ever and the quality of music was out-standing. In the end, Tony Moger garnered the judges highest votes and even earned a slot in this year's lineup.

If the school or agency knows of children who are homeless, runaway, foster, from a migrant household, or who are enrolled in Head Start, they will send a letter to the household telling them the children are eligible for free meals. Contact the school or agency if the household does not get a letter because these children may be eligible for free meal benefits.
Foster children that are under the legal custody of a foster care agency or court are eligible for free meals. Any foster child in the household is eligible for free meals regardless of income. Households may include foster children on the application but are not required to include payments received for care of the foster child as income.
Any household may choose to decline benefits, please notify your child's school or agency of that choice.

An eligibility determination is good for the school year; however, applications may be submitted at any time during the year. Contact your child's school or agency if a household member becomes unemployed or if the household size changes. The children from that household may be eligible for free or reduced-price meals or free milk during the period of unemployment if the household's income falls within the income eligibility guidelines. Information on any application may be verified at any time during the school year by school or other program officials.
If a parent or guardian is dissatisfied with the ruling on the application for eligibility, they may contact the determining official on an informal basis. If the parent or guardian wishes to make a formal appeal, an oral or written request may be made to the school or agencies hearing official to request an appeal.
Some schools or agencies may choose to send a special notice about the Children's Health Insurance Program to determine an applicant's eligibility for free or reduced-price meals if the household is at or below the guidelines.

INCOME ELIGIBILITY GUIDELINES
(Effective from July 1, 2024 through June 30, 2025)

State Issued Public Release FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE FREE AND REDUCED PRICE MEALS FOR CHILDREN

PIERRE -- Child and Adult Nutrition Services in the South Dakota Department of Education has announced the free and reduced-price policy for free milk or free and reduced-price meals. The policy applies to children unable to pay the full price of meals or milk served under the National School Lunch Program, School Breakfast Program, Special Milk Program, and/or the Child and Adult Care Food Program. The administrative office of each school or agency that participates in any of these federal programs have a copy of the policy available for review.

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free or reduced-price meals or milk at participating schools and agencies. Families may apply for free or reduced-price meals or free milk for their children for school/program year 2024-2025 according to guidelines effective July 1, 2024. Applications will be provided to households by their local school or agency. Families that are directly certified as eligible for free meals will receive a notice of eligibility from their school.
Schools will use the prior year's eligibility status (free, reduced price, or paid) for up to the first 30 days of school or until a new application is approved or direct certification is obtained, whichever comes first. When the carry-over period ends, unless the household is notified that their children are directly certified, or the household submits an application that is approved, the children must pay full to determine an applicant's eligibility for free or reduced-price meals if the family is at or below the guideline.

INCOME ELIGIBILITY GUIDELINES (Effective from July 1, 2024 through June 30, 2025)

The income scales below are to be used to determine applicant's eligibility for free or reduced-price meals if the family is at or below the guideline.

Halverson to Play at SD State Fair Missoula Children's Theatre Returned to Canton

-What do you like to do when you have that rare downtime?

I'm either writing songs or getting down the road to sing them somewhere. There isn't much time off here. And if I have any, I'm more than likely back in South Dakota trying to play big brother.

-Favorite place to tour so far & why?

Texas, in my opinion, is the greatest place to play and grow live original music. The Blue Light Live in Lubbock, TX is the first place I ever felt like a singer. I had never heard anybody sing back my lyrics to me until I played there. And I give Lubbock a lot of credit for helping me spread my name.

For a chance to see him live in action, Halverson will be playing at the South Dakota State Fair on Sunday, September 1st, in Huron, SD as the opening act for Trace Adkins. Tickets are available on the SD State Fair website: <https://www.etix.com/ticket/mvc/legacyOnlineSale/performance/sale/validateCaptchaAndGoSelectPage>

To keep up with Tyler's shows or to watch for updates about new merch, check out his website: <https://www.tylerhalverson.com/>

Missoula Children's Theatre Returned to Canton

The Missoula Children's Theater returned to Canton again this year. Talented youth tried out last Monday morning for the different parts of the Pied Piper. Children only got to practice for a week before they performed last Saturday.

Sportstalk

By Rich Beitzel

First, I need to apologize to everyone for the really long column last week and I hope some of you got all the way thru it before you noticed how long it was. I had a lot to say and the ladies down at the news office gave me the ok to write a long one. I hope any one reading it last week will give me more chances and I hope not to make them that long again but if you do know me you never know when the long columns are coming. Thanks again for reading Sportstalk.

I do have a couple more things to say about the junior football time I had and first out of the 28 years of coaching it I had Zach for one year and Chase for two and I think that helped for the longevity because its a lot easier when I didn't have to watch out for or just watch my own son during games or practice and it seemed easier to watch all the other players. I have a couple more things I want to pass along and first I have a thanks to JFI as I went and looked, they started sponsoring my team in 2001 till last year and that was so good of them to do that cause then I didn't have to go out looking for one so thanks to Mitch and Todd for all the years and hats and shirts for us.

Some big thanks I have to pass on starts with my wife Teresa since during the 28 years she came to a few games to watch the boys and after that a lot of the games were on Sunday night or Tuesday night and I didn't expect her to come to the games but she knew how important to me the games were and just said good luck and see you when you get home. Thanks dear. Next group of women I want to thank are the moms who took care of the emails, texts, group information stuff that I am just not smart enough to do or want to do and they were Jen Skiles, Kasi Roberts, Melissa Anderson, Amanda Wallner, Angie Wiersma and I am sorry if I missed anyone but your help was great to send our practice and game notices. I had stat keepers so I could get results in the paper for the kids and their families to see and some of them were Brad Casanova who also stayed after his kid was done and did it for me for a couple years extra and I had Justin Wallner, Steve Olson, Larry DeBuhr and Joe the last year so if you helped with stats and didn't get on the list I am very happy you could help it was a major help. Thanks to all the chain gang for helping out and putting up with me on the sidelines during the game. Mostly thank you to the parents and grandparents who came to watch your son or grandson play and I have always enjoyed talking with the grandparents' years after the grandson left junior football into high school football. They always seem to remember certain plays and I just get a big kick out of what they remember. That's about it and sorry to throw more in this week but its practice time for our little football players and if you're driving up around the high school football field please drive carefully as they will be crossing streets and maybe not looking so you watch for them. Good luck to all you football players.

This last weekend was another way to feel good about being from Canton SD and I want to thank who ever was in charge of the car show weekend because I thoroughly enjoyed all the people and cars Saturday night and Sunday. I thought it seemed like the old car show weekends with lots of cars and great looking cars with people lining the main drag watching and having a great time. The car show had some beautiful cars and lots of nice owners that made a long journey to get to Canton to show off their cars with local car owners too. Congrats to whoever was in charge of this weekend and I hope there will be more.

Girls Wrestling Attends Camp

The Canton Girls Wrestling team traveled to Fort Dodge, IA to attend the Iron Sharpens Iron Wrestling Camp. The girls teams are assigned a college athlete to also coach them throughout the camp. Our team was assigned Iowa wrestler and National Champion Felicity Taylor. Throughout the camp the girls had the opportunity to learn technique from collegiate wrestlers such as Felicity Taylor, Drake Ayala, Maya Davis, David Carr, Parker Keckeisen, Christian Mejia, Lauren Luvie, and others. We also had the opportunity to compete in a variety of team building events and compete in duals. The girls team finished 3rd in duals going 6-2. All of the girls competed extremely well and made big strides on the mat! Couldn't be more happy with the overall results of the camp!
