Canton Good Samaritan “Walk of Ages” Returns

By: Kala Hazelhoff

The Canton Good Samaritan “Walk of Ages” event is being brought back on Sunday, September 8th, from 2-5pm. Jeanne Limoges initially started the event when she worked in Canton in years past. This will be the first time the event has been held since COVID. The funds raised will be to convert the current screened-in porch into a four-season room for the residents.

There are countless studies that have been done over the years that show benefits for seniors to have a connection with nature. It improves mental health, social interaction, fight feelings of boredom or isolation, cognitive function, improved health, and better sleep. Most importantly, it would bring joy to the residents. The addition would allow the residents to have a safe place to watch all the seasons pass, with even the option in the cooler months of being cozied up to a fireplace. This update would include all new windows and heating/cooling. The cost to complete this project is $115,000. “Our residents love to be outside and the proceeds from the community support will help us complete our four-season porch, so that they can enjoy all the seasons South Dakota has to offer.” -Scott Larson

The event will include a walk, games, music from Bill Peterson and friends, snacks from “Craigs Shave Ice,” raffle drawing, and items for a silent auction. There will be raffle tickets for several items such as a Blackstone Grille donated by Sanford Canton-Inwood, Pit Boss Smoker donated by the Canton Inwood Area Health Foundation, and a homemade quilt, donated by Anna Mundt. Tickets are $10 or six tickets for $50.

If you would like to donate to this event, they are accepting cash donations as well as items for the silent auction. If you have items for the silent auction, please call Canton Good Samaritan prior to this event for more information.

Shown above are the raffle items that will be available to purchase tickets for during the Walk of Ages event. Many silent auction items will be available to bid on during the event.

CHS Worthing Grain Silos Change Skyline

CHS Worthing started planning an expansion project September 14, 2023. Majority of the work started underground with the above ground work in the last few weeks. There were 451 auger cast piles that were poured to support this big elevator which consisted of over 3,300 yards of concrete poured under ground. Next the team focused on installing 400,000 pounds of rebar into the Elevator Mat. This mat will structure of the elevator started on August 15. Over the next seven days, the team poured over 5,000 yards of concrete and installed more than 1.1 million pounds of rebar to shape the structure of the elevator. The team worked two 12-hour shifts, with around 100 crew members per shift, and ran 24 hours a day. The slip was powered by nearly 200 jacks, moved every 3 to 4 minutes, lifting the structure 7/8” at a time.

evenly distribute the weight of the elevator across the deep foundation piles. The Elevator Mat will be a three-foot-thick concrete slab, requiring nearly 2,000 yards of concrete or 250 cement trucks.

Next to the elevator is the control room building, which will connect to the receiving building.

Then came the exciting part that can be seen from far away and changing the skyline near by. Day one of pouring for the

They averaged to rise 24 feet per day.

Day two they were up to 25 feet above ground, 892 yards of concrete was poured and 206,075 pounds of concrete were installed. Crews used 15 wheelbarrows to move concrete into place, 34 crew members were hand-tying rebar, with vertical bars spaced 6 inches apart and horizontal bars spaced 18 inches apart.

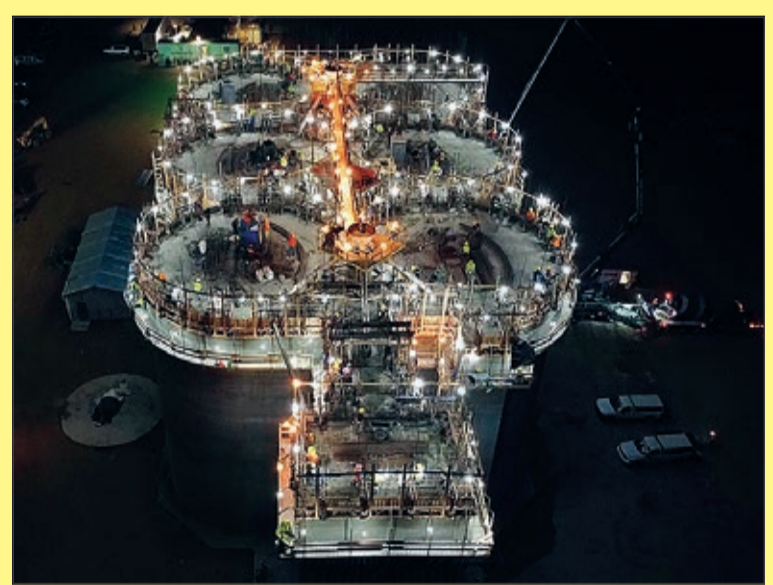

By day three the skyline was starting to change. After 48 hours of continuous work, it was 50 feet above the ground, with a total of 1,785 yards of concrete poured and 400,000 pounds of rebar installed. Alongside the crew of nearly 50 men moving wheelbarrows and installing rebar, a 15-member team is shoveling concrete into the walls, which vary in thickness from 6 to 18 inches. As the slip form ascends, an 11-member team of finishers broom the exterior and interior walls to fill in any voids.

Day four was the halfway point with the slip standing 75 tall with 65 feet to go. Each night a fresh crew arrived on sight to work through the night. Atop the slip platform, it appeared as if it was daytime, with numerous lights illuminating the area to ensure quality and safety. From the ground, it looks like the team is working on a floating island, surrounded by complete darkness.

Day five the slip reached over 100 feet. Nearly 200 jacks were stationed around the slip and were the key cog of the operation. These jacks engaged every three minutes and then climbed up the jack rods, which raised the entire slip. The jacks were either 2- or 3-ton capacity and supported the form and crew atop. The team project wrapped up around 10 p.m. on Wednesday, August 21. After a total of 134.5 hours of continuous pouring of concrete, the summit was reached. Over 5,000 yards of concrete and 1.1 million pounds of rebar were now changing the skyline. The new CHS Worthing rail project and new silo were finished and hope continually adjusted the jack rods to ensure the entire slip remained level, along with adding 15-foot sections to each jack rod as it continued to climb.

Day six was the final day with 15 feet left to pour. The final to be fully open by next year. This expansion will help ease the semi truck traffic during harvest next year. Along with the traffic it will take less time and people to fill the rain cars out by Worthing compared to doing it in Canton.

Arthur (Art) Stensland
March 17, 1930 - August 17, 2024

Arthur (Art) Stensland of Larchwood, Iowa, 94, passed away peacefully with his family by his side on Saturday, August 17, 2024 at the Dougherty Hospice House, Sioux Falls. Funeral services were held on Wednesday, August 21 at Our Savior's Lutheran Church, Inwood, IA.

Arthur was born on the family farm near Larchwood (Klondike), Iowa on March 17, 1930 to Tobias and Inga (Ugland) Stensland, the eighth of ten children. He attended country school near Klondike through eighth grade and then continued to help his parents on the farm. During his youth, Art enjoyed playing and working on the farm and was included in many shenanigans with his older siblings. He loved horses, especially his prized horse Princey. While eating at the Drive-In in Canton one day, he spied a pretty brunette named Rosie who waited on him. After several years of courtship, they were joined in marriage on March 23, 1952 while Art was home on leave from the Army. Art served his country in the Army from October 1951 through September 1953 during the Korean War. After their marriage, he was stationed in Germany where he drove trucks and delivered supplies until his discharge.

Following his time in the service, Art worked at John Morrell's for a short time and then began farming with Rosie by his side. The couple was blessed with six children, three daughters and three sons, all of whom helped on the farm. Milking cows was a huge part of Art's life for over 50 years beginning at age 10. He witnessed many changes during that time, from milking cows by hand to the use of robots when the grandsons began milking many years later. In addition to milking cows, Art raised beef cattle and hogs as well as corn, soybeans and alfalfa. Art's kids remember well the many hours spent helping him (and fighting with each other) in the dairy barn. They can still hear Art whistling and singing tunes while milking cows in the barn.

Art gained many carpenter skills over the years as the couple added on to their house several times to accommodate their growing family. He willingly shared these skills with his kids and grandkids as he helped with many of their remodeling projects. After "retiring" from farming, he continued to help on the farm with field work and fix-it projects when his son and grandsons were farming. He was also a meter reader for Lyon County Rural Water for a number of years.

Art was a lifetime member and dedicated servant of Our Savior's Lutheran Church. His faith was important to him, and he was very devoted to making sure the church and its properties were well taken care of. Over the years, he served on several church committees and volunteered as the church custodian and bell-ringer. Art was also the caretaker of Our Savior's Lutheran Cemetery for many years and served in this role until age 92. Every week during the summer months, he drove his Farmall H tractor with its belly mower from his place to the church cemetery to mow and trim so that it looked nice for Sunday services. A few years ago, he told his kids about an unmarked gravesite in the cemetery. It bothered him that there was no marker to identify the deceased person. Art checked the cemetery records, found the correct name, and then arranged to have a small marker made for the grave.

Art and Rosie greatly enjoyed visiting with friends and family. During family get-to-togethers, the Stensland laugh could be heard loud and clear. They were long-time members of a pinocle card club and also played cards with other friends several times a week. Art and Rosie always made sure everyone felt welcomed into their home and took time to visit and help shut-ins.

In his later years, Art enjoyed watching the growth and changes on the dairy farm as his grandsons resurrected the milking barn and built a productive business making dairy products including their signature ice cream and cheese. He enjoyed walking up the hill to the barn and store/warehouse to check things out and often made an appearance at the farm tours. Art supported the dairy industry until the end as he enjoyed a huge bowl of ice cream every night (and often twice a day). The freezer was always stocked with Stensland ice cream in a variety of flavors.

As he lost siblings and friends throughout the years, Art enjoyed making the rounds to visit his nieces and nephews. He cherished each one of his grandchildren and great-grandchildren and enjoyed attending their events. He enjoyed sharing Norwegian jokes and telling stories of his long-ago relatives and neighbors, the antics he and his siblings shared, and interesting historical facts about the area.

A highlight for Art in 2019 was flying with the Honor Flight to Washington, D. C. where he enjoyed seeing all of the Memorials as well as visiting with other veterans.

Up until the end of his life, Art was faithful in riding his exercise bike and doing twenty push-ups every day, but he reported that he "cheated" on his push-ups because he did them on his knees.

Art's life was characterized by a quiet contentment, a sense of gratitude, and a humble spirit. He did not possess a mean bone in his body and very rarely said a negative word about anyone. He was non-judgmental and accepting of all people. He had a quiet sense of humor which popped up at unexpected times. Art was known to be a hard worker with a patient, steady pace who could often outlast his younger relatives. He taught his family many life lessons by example and the way he lived his life. Some of his favorite sayings were "Everything will work out", "Take one day at a time" and "Always try to find the good in people". Art's legacy of caring for his land and animals as well as his kind and patient spirit will live on in the hearts of his family members forever. Blessed be his memory.

Grateful for having shared his life are his children, Cindy Koch, Lynette (Doug Bos) Stensland, Doug (Mona) Stensland, Mark Stensland (Jesse Plaetz), Brian Stensland, Lisa Larsen (Phil Jacobson); 17 Grandchildren, Joshua Koch (Taya Rall), Jennifer Koch (Sven-Eric Thompson), Leah (Abe Arshem) Stensland-Arshem, Tanner (Lacey) Larsen, Angela Koch, Andrea Snyders, Lance Schreurs, Nicholas (Evie) Koch, Jason (Paige) Stensland, Justin (Chelsea) Stensland, Daniel (Kim Busch) Stensland-Bos, Kyle Stensland (Beth Ann Faber), Matthew Stensland-Bos (Brie Merson), Luke Larsen, Erin Larsen, Nathan (Katie) Bos, and Micah (Amber) Bos; and 33 great-grandchildren with one more on the way.

Art is reunited in heaven with his wife of 71 years, Rosella (passed away August 21, 2023), his parents; son-in-law Charlie Larsen; siblings and spouses, Tilman Stensland, Joel (Mary Jeanette) Stensland, Orville (Lois) Stensland, Edsel (Gladys) Stensland, Melvin (RoseMarie) Stensland, Gloria (Ervin) Hamann, Marlo (Mildred) Stensland, Alice (Darrell) Hars, and Joyce (Kenneth) Claussen; and many special nieces and nephews.

South Dakota Judicial Branch Warns About Jury Duty Scam

PIERRE, S.D.—The South Dakota Unified Judicial System is warning the public about a phone or email scam in which individuals pose as law enforcement and falsely claim that the recipient has missed jury duty, owes fines and will be arrested if they don't pay.

The scam, which claims people are in imminent danger of arrest for missing jury duty, is designed to create panic and pressure victims into providing personal information or making immediate payments to avoid arrest. If you receive a jury duty related call or email, do not provide any personal information or send money.

South Dakota's circuit courts send jury duty summons to people via mail, not by phone or email. While failure to report for jury duty can result in fines, the court will never call you to demand money. The court also does not accept payment via gift cards, pre-paid cards, wire transfers or cryptocurrency deposits.

Anyone who receives a jury duty scam phone call or email should report it to the Consumer Protection Division of the South Dakota Office of the Attorney General at 1-800-300-1986 or consumerhelp@state.sd.us.

If you have questions regarding whether you have been summoned for jury duty with South Dakota's circuit courts, contact your local Clerk of Courts office. For contact information visit https://ujs.sd.gov/Circuit_Court/Default.aspx.

HISTORY REVISITED

By Gaynor Johnson

First of all, we need to correct a couple errors from last weeks column. Book one of Ole Rølvaag's Giants In The Earth was first published in Norway in 1924, not 1927. Book two was published a year later in 1925. Also Ole went to school nine weeks a year for seven years not just during "nice" weeks. For this weeks column I will be using some excerpts from Chapter 12 of Hjalmar Rued Holand's book Norwegians In America: The Last Migration. It was originally published in Oslo, Norway in 1930. The book I'm using was published by the Center For Western Studies in 1978.

Hjalmar spent most of his days on the scenic Door County Peninsula in eastern Wisconsin. In 1898, while on a visit to the area, he purchased fifty seven acres of land on Eagle Cliff near Ephraim. A few years later he planted one thousand apple trees and one hundred cherry trees on the property on the west side of Lake Michigan. This venture proved to be so profitable that he was able to devote more than half a century to his historical and literary interests.

Hjalmar was born in Høland, Excerpts from Chapter 12- When Dakota Was Settled from Norwegians In America: The Last Migration by Hjalmar Rued Holand- Part 1

When it had been in existence for a few years, this Canton congregation acquired a pastor who soon became well known in the Lutheran Church. This man's name was Ole E. Hofstad, who had come as a young lay preacher from Trondhjem, Norway. He had very little formal schooling but he was endowed by nature with a remarkable talents for public speaking and a gift for illuminating his ideas with the most original and peculiar illustrations. He had a fine singing voice, and he was a zealous student of the Scriptures. And in all his activities, he manifested a burning zeal that drove him to make personal contact with every individual he encountered. When he had finished his sermon, he would stand by the church door, where he grasped the hand of each worshipper and had a different remark for each individual. To one he would say: "Have you found peace with God?" to another: "If you were to die tonight, do you feel prepared to meet your Judge?" To the people who had been accustomed to the formality of the synod clergy, it was something new to find a preacher manifesting a burning evangelical enthusiasm and making such intimate, personal remarks to individuals. It made a very profound impression on the parishioners. But there were those who found it offensive, and withdrew, scoffing and ridiculing such behavior. However, there were more who maintained that Hofstad was the greatest preacher since John the Baptist.

Everyone admired Hofstad's singing voice. People in Luverne can still recall being awakened early one morning in pioneer days to the resounding notes of a Norwegian hymn. The sound seemed to be coming right down from the sky. Dressing hurriedly, they rushed outside to investigate. Soon they caught sight of a man standing atop the highest hill and greeting the rising sun with song. This man was Preacher Hofstad. On a missionary journey to the Luverne community, he chose this way to let people for miles around know that he had arrived.

Hofstad was a man of feeling and it was understandable that his powerful and passionate enthusiasm could lead him to make ill-considered and rash statements and to commit imprudencies. He was a combination of Salvation Army revivalist and petty pope, who could foment violent disagreements among the members of his congregation. Eventually, a merger of three church bodies formed the Canton congregation. In 1890 the United Norwegian Lutheran Church in America was organized and both the Canton and Bethlehem congregations became affiliated with it. But in spite of the fact that they now were fellow members of the same church body, each congregation for another twelve years continued to have its own pastor. After a time, the people began to realize the absurdity of employing two pastors where one would be enough and they voted to merge the two churches. Reverend Hofstad resigned, and the Rev. P.H. Tetlie of the former synod congregation was called to serve the merged church.

Norway, near Oslo (Then called Christiania) on October 20, 1872 and immigrated with his sister, Helen, to the home of an older brother in Chicago. Their father followed later and they moved to Wisconsin.

In Chapter 12, When Dakota Was Settled, Hjalmar devotes a few pages to Canton and Beloit. I'll include in part 1 the story of a young lay preacher that came here from Trondhjem, Norway. In next weeks, part 2, we will see how two churches merged and learn what Nelsonville morphed into.

I hope you all had the opportunity to attend Canton Civil War Days. The weather certainly cooperated and those who put this two day affair together certainly did an incredible job. Special thanks to Lisa Hinker, Dave Renli, Bill Peterson, Russ Swanson, John and Lori Lems and a host of volunteers. They made the 2nd Canton Civil War Days a very interesting and enjoyable way to end the summer of 2024.

Protecting Kids Online

By Sen. John Thune
Social media has become a big part of Americans' lives. It's a source of entertainment and information, a way to connect with friends and family, and a place to shop, do business, and advocate for causes that are important to us. But I don't need to tell anyone that social media has a dark side as well. Social media can have negative effects on mental health. It can foster negative and divisive engagement and serve as an outlet for illegal activity. And it can be especially detrimental to teenagers' still-developing psyches.

In the last few years, reports and whistleblowers have sounded the alarm on social media's impact on young people. In 2021, the Wall Street Journal released a series of reports highlighting, among other things, Facebook's knowledge of the harm its products can cause, including its own research into Instagram's impact on teenage girls. Another report revealed how easy it is for teens to be bombarded with inappropriate content on TikTok, a risk-plagued platform with flaws far beyond this one. And many of us have also read tragic stories of eating disorders and suicide linked to social media. The status quo is unacceptable.

For several years now, including my time as chairman, I've worked with a number of my colleagues on the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation to address some of these issues. After years of hard work, the Senate recently passed the Kids Online Safety and Privacy Act, which takes important steps to protect young Americans online.

Championed by Sen. Marsha Blackburn, my colleague from Tennessee, this bill provides safeguards for teens by requiring that Big Tech platforms default to the strongest privacy settings for minors. It puts the responsibility on these platforms to prevent and mitigate harm to young people, and it prohibits internet companies from collecting personal information from minors without their consent. These and other measures in the bill are critical steps to protect children online and hopefully begin to reverse social media's ill effects, of which we've seen too much in recent years.

In addition to these provisions, I'm proud that this bill includes my Filter Bubble Transparency Act. One big problem with social media platforms stems from platforms' ability to decide what information to show you based on a secret algorithm that you can't inspect or change. Not all algorithms are bad - some can even be helpful, like YouTube queuing up another song from your favorite band instead of something totally unrelated. But algorithms that expose a 15-year-old to inappropriate videos, that's problematic, to say the least. And unfortunately, consumers are not always aware of just how much of their experience is being shaped by opaque algorithms.

The Filter Bubble Transparency Act puts consumers and parents back in charge by requiring Big Tech platforms to disclose when they are using an opaque algorithm, and it requires platforms to give consumers the option to view content that has not been curated by the secret algorithm. It provides more transparency for consumers and gives them more control over the content with which they interact online. I'm glad to see this bill advance alongside other important measures in this bill.

As always, there's additional work to be done to update our laws for the social media age. But the Kids Online Safety and Privacy Act is an important step forward in protecting young Americans from harm on the internet. I hope the House of Representatives will soon take up this bill, and I will continue working with my colleagues on this important issue.

Southtown Commentary

By Pastor Jerry Miller

Are You Like the Devil?

Many people are not aware that I spent some time in jail. Now that I have your attention, let me clarify that I was not a resident there, but I would regularly go into the jail to minister to the people who did live there.

One of the guys wanted to talk to me privately and he said that he had something to tell me that I would not believe. He then proceeded to tell me that he used to be a devil worshiper. I told him I was not surprised since I knew that the the devil was real. I then said that Christ loved him, but that even when he was serving the devil, the devil hated him. Tears rolled down his face as he said that he knew the devil hated him even when he was worshipping him.

I haven't met very many devil worshippers in my life, but I have met many people who actually adopt the same religious views as the devil. I am not talking about sitting around a pentagram, partaking in human sacrifice, or wearing a goat's head.

Instead of focusing on the images of horror movies, let us instead look at a Bible passage that describes the satanic approach to God. Isaiah 14:12-14 warns,

"How art thou fallen from heaven, O Lucifer, son of the morning! how art thou cut down to the ground, which didst weaken the nations! 13 For thou hast said in thine heart, I will ascend into heaven, I will exalt my throne above the stars of God: I will sit also upon the mount of the congregation, in the sides of the north: 14 I will ascend above the heights of the clouds; I will be like the most High. 15 Yet thou shalt be brought down to hell, to the sides of the pit."

Notice Lucifer's religious approach. He was not going to submit to God. He was going to act like he was God. But he fell from heaven and would be brought to hell.

Most of the people in this world are going through life just like Lucifer. They have decided that they are the ones who are making the rules. They know they have sinned, but are upset

Windmill Of My Mind

by Margaret Schultz

It was 1:00 a.m. I awoke to the sound of coyotes down by the river; they all start yipping simultaneously, their chorus ringing through the air. Then, as suddenly as they started, they stopped, as if a conductor was cutting them off. I tucked the covers under my chin and smiled, for their voices were replaced by the hooting of an owl. When he had said what he wanted to say, the silence of the night was only broken by the chirping of the crickets. Then the crickets went silent.

When the coyotes woke me, I had been sleeping restlessly, dreaming of the strangest things. I had fallen asleep thinking of all the things I needed to do the next day – not a sleep-inducing topic, to say the least. So the coyotes almost did me a favor, by waking me. The cacophony of their yipping, echoed the staccato of my thoughts and dreams. Then the owl reminded me of "who" I needed to seek. The crickets cheered me on happily and encouraged me to not feel overwhelmed by my tasks. Night-sounds - peaceful, calming, reassuring, familiar. And then, the silence. There was no breeze rustling the leaves of the old Cottonwood tree, no barking of dogs in the neighborhood, no wind chime song.

Following the advice of an devotional I had recently read, I lifted my arms towards the ceiling and silently said, "I give everything to you, Lord. I give everyone to you. Reunite my spirit with yours, I pray."

The next thing I knew, it was morning and my dog was nudging me that it was time to get up. Later, sitting with my cup of coffee, I thought about the night before. The coyotes, sometimes sounding like they were in our backyard, made me think of the doubts, the frustrations, the self-beratings, the sense of being overwhelmed, that occasionally fill my mind. Perhaps you experience that, or some of that, as well. Then something causes us to say "Okay, enough," and the "coyotes" are silent.

The owl, so seldom seen, says "Hoo," or "Who" are you listening to? Those accusing voices that sometimes fill our minds, make us ask ourselves, "who, indeed?" Then the owl is silent.

And there are the crickets. Are they outside or hiding behind the washer in the basement? Regardless, they sound so cheerful and unrelenting, reminding me that there are many voices calling for my attention and I need to choose "who" I will listen to. Then the crickets fell silent.

I need a certain amount of silence in my life and I am usually quite comfortable with it. I hope I use that silence to listen for the Voice of God, for He speaks to us through Scripture, through prayer, through the remembered words of a friend or family member, through a treasured memory.

Sometimes the greatest moments come when the crickets are silent.

that anyone would judge them for their sin. They do not want anyone- especially God- telling them what to do. They want to be the king of their lives and to sit on their own personal throne, without having to submit to God.

Like Lucifer, they will suffer the consequences of such arrogance. Notice how Isaiah 14:15 warns that he will "be brought down to hell, to the sides of the pit." Jesus warned in Matthew 25:41, "Then shall he say also unto them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels."

If you do not acknowledge that Jesus is the creator- that he is God- and that we must submit to God as we believe on him, then you will have the same fate as the devil. You do not have to worship the devil to go to the lake of fire. You simply have to take the same path as the devil in resisting God.

Thankfully God loves you and we are told by Jesus, "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life." (John 3:16)

If you have been resisting Jesus, chose a different path than Lucifer did. Submit to God and embrace the promise that Jesus gave us. "All that the Father gives Me shall come to Me, and the one who comes to Me I will certainly not cast out." (John 6:37) www.southtownchurch.com

This big ad was in a 1938 Sioux Valley news at the end of August. It told of many events happening in the next week going up to September 2. It was called the Corn Carnival, which went on for many years into 1970's and 1980's with that name. We are going to research and see if we can find what year it did start. There were free acts such as a Norwegian Singer, Ian Sterling-Comedy Team, music by Ethel and Frank and Bowden Bros, wrestling, dancing provided rain or shine.

This strange photo shows these tough guys wrestling in one of the Acts. Another strange Act was a ventriloquist here, along with parachute jumps and a band concert by Canton High and ball games were also in the program.

HOMETOWN girl

During this season of late summer weddings, I found myself wondering, why do people decorate the getaway cars? Where did this tradition come from? As it turns out, the tradition can be traced back to the times of the ancient Romans.

Historians believe the Romans would decorate their chariots with ribbons and flowers during the wedding procession, as a sign of the couple's happiness and wealth. The Romans believed these decorations would bring good luck and protection to the new couple. They were also known to "transfer" the bride to the groom, only after the father of the bride would give the groom the bride's shoes. (Without shoes, the bride could not run away.)

In Europe during medieval times, ribbons were attached to the bride's dress. After the ceremony, the ribbons would be cut and distributed to wedding guests, as they were believed to bring them good luck and blessings.

The use of ribbons on carriages became more popular late in the 19th century. These ribbons were usually white, made of silk and tied into intricate bows as a sign of purity and elegance.

Once automobiles came along, the car decorations became part of the wedding tradition to usher the new couple into their new chapter of life together. This was also to show off the wealth status of the couple, as only a few had automobiles when they were first invented. The tradition with automobiles started with tying old shoes to the back of the car to keep the newlyweds safe, as leather was supposed to scare away any evil spirits that may cause the couple harm. This soon changed into tying noisy tin cans onto the back of the car to draw attention to onlookers of the newlyweds in their getaway car. The noise of the cans was thought to ward off any evil spirits.

Today there are numerous ways to decorate cars including "just married" signs, the traditional tin cans, balloons, ribbons, or streamers. However, I have seen some getaway cars with less than desired decorations on it, like silly string all over or open Oreos stuck to the exterior. Now, the next time you attend a wedding, you will now have a fun fact to share with other wedding guests.

Soft-Opening at Canton Pool Signs of ADHD in Children

The Canton swimming pool had to perform a load test on the new pool. Saturday was a hot and perfect day to test the load capacity. This is a vital step and a major milestone for our community to make sure everything is running safely and smoothly before the winter season and fully open next summer. They hosted a pop-up public swim at the pool with guards from Inwood to help out.

Todd Gannon/Pool Committee had this to say:
 "It was such a fun, joyful, and emotional experience to watch so many community members enjoy the new facility.

Seven years ago, we embarked on an incredible journey to bring a new pool to Canton, and today we finally celebrated our soft opening! While there's still more work ahead, it was amazing to see so many community members enjoying the new facility.

I want to extend my deepest gratitude to my nine amazing pool committee members who have been together through every obstacle and challenge. This project wouldn't have been possible without their unwavering support and determination. Together, we always asked, "How do we get through this next challenge?" This experience has truly shown what a dedicated group of ten can accomplish when they lift each other up, prioritize teamwork over individual recognition, and remain focused on their goals. What began as a collective effort by caring community members has blossomed into lifelong friendships.

A special shout-out to Kyle Cwach, our City Finance Officer and the city commission for supporting us! Your expertise and support were crucial in making this dream a reality. Thank you for believing in us."

Rates of attention deficit/hyperactivity disorder (ADHD) among children are high. A 2022 survey from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention found that more than 11 percent of children between the ages of three and 17 have been diagnosed with ADHD. Though ADHD is slightly less common among youngsters in Canada, affecting between 5 and 7 percent of the nation's children according to the Centre for ADHD Awareness, Canada, it's still considered one of the most prevalent neurodevelopmental disorders in the country.

The name alone sheds light on the potential impact ADHD can have on students' academic performance. Children who struggle to remain attentive and/or sit still are likely to have problems in a traditional classroom setting. But students and their families are not helpless against ADHD. The first step parents can take is to learn the warning signs of ADHD in children. The United Kingdom-based National Health Service reports that symptoms of ADHD can be categorized into two types of behavioral problems: inattentiveness and hyperactivity and impulsiveness.

Inattentiveness

Inattentiveness is marked by difficulty concentrating and focusing. Children experiencing inattentiveness as a byproduct of ADHD may exhibit the following symptoms:

- A short attention span and being easily distracted
- A tendency to make careless mistakes in schoolwork or when engaging in other tasks
- Forgetfulness and a propensity to lose things
- An inability to continue performing tasks that are tedious or time-consuming
- Difficulty listening to or carrying out instructions
- Constant pivoting between activities or tasks
- Difficulty organizing tasks

Hyperactivity and impulsiveness

Symptoms that fall under the category of hyperactivity and impulsiveness can adversely affect academic performance and also lead to difficulties with social interaction with other children and adults. Such symptoms may include:

- An inability to sit still, especially in calm or quiet surroundings, such as a classroom
- Constant fidgeting
- An inability to concentrate on tasks
- Excessive physical movement
- Excessive talking
- An inability to wait one's turn
- Acting without thinking
- Interrupting conversations
- Little or no sense of danger

Parents who suspect their child has ADHD are urged to speak with the child's physician before drawing any conclusions. Many youngsters, particularly those experiencing classroom settings or other disciplined, highly structured environments for the first time, may exhibit some of the aforementioned symptoms but not have ADHD. A frank discussion with the child's physician can help parents determine if their child is exhibiting typical childhood behaviors or perhaps showing signs of ADHD. More information about ADHD is available at cdc.gov, www.nhs.uk and caddac.ca.

The month of September has been home to many historical events over the years. Here's a look at some that helped to shape the world in September 1924.

• The Dawes Plan goes into effect on September 1. The plan details a restructuring of reparations payments Germany owes to the Allied Powers in the aftermath of World War I. Charles G. Dawes, who was integral in developing the plan, would be awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 1925 for his contributions.

• On September 2, Negro National League President Rube Foster announces the first "Negro World Series" would be played in October. Foster announces the series will feature the champion of his league and the champion of the Eastern Colored League.

• At least 300 civilians are killed during the Taif massacre in the Kingdom of Hejaz on September 3.

• The fourth annual Miss America Pageant is held in Atlantic City, New Jersey, on September 6. Miss Philadelphia, Ruth Malcomson, wins the pageant. Miss Columbus, Mary Katherine Campbell of Ohio, finishes as First Runner-Up after winning the pageant the previous two years.

• John Dillinger, who would ultimately be identified as the mastermind behind a gang accused of robbing 24 banks and four police stations, attempts to rob a grocery store in Indiana on September 6. The attempt marked Dillinger's first attempt at a major crime, but he and his accomplice are quickly apprehended and sent to jail.

• Twenty people, including four police officers, are killed during a gun battle in the American territory of Hawaii on September 9. The Hanapepe massacre stemmed from a dispute amongst striking workers at the McBryde sugar plantation on the island of Kauai.

• The sensational trial of Nathan F. Leopold, Jr. and Richard Albert Loeb ends on September 10. Each man is sentenced to life plus 99 years for the kidnapping and murder of Bobby Franks in May.

serves until his death in 1950.

• Thomas Wade Landry is born in Mission, Texas, on September 11. Landry would become the first head coach of the Dallas Cowboys in the National Football League, a job he held for 29 seasons.

• General of the Armies John J. Pershing retires from the United States Army on September 13. The highly decorated General Pershing is the last American military officer to achieve the rank of a six-star general.

• First baseman Jim Bottomley of the St. Louis Cardinals sets a major league record when he drives in 12 runs in a nine-inning game on September 16. The record still stands, though Bottomley now shares it with a fellow St. Louis Cardinal, Mark Whiten, who drove in 12 runs against the Cincinnati Reds in the second game of a doubleheader on September 7, 1993.

• On September 18, the United States military occupation of the Dominican Republic ends after more than eight years.

• Joseph Stalin orders the arrest of Alexander Krasnoshchyokov on September 19. Krasnoshchyokov is the first prominent Bolshevik to be arrested under the leadership of Stalin, who ultimately allows Krasnoshchyokov to rejoin the government in 1925. That second chance would prove somewhat brief, as Stalin would order Krasnoshchyokov's execution in 1937.

• The American freighter SS Clifton sinks in Lake Huron on September 22. All 26 crew members perish, and the wreckage of the Clifton would not be found until 2016.

• British racer Malcolm Campbell breaks the record for the fastest speed on land on September 24. Campbell, driving a Sunbeam 350HP with a V12 engine, reaches a speed of 146.18 miles per hour, narrowly breaking the record set by Ernest Eldridge just months earlier.

City Discusses Beaver Creek Sewer Project

By Rollie Steck
The Canton City Commission met in regular session on Monday, August 19 at 7 p.m. at the Depot. All Commissioners were present at the time of roll call.

The only item under Old Business was the Airport Grant Agreement. This item was tabled at the August 5 City Commission meeting. The City has Grant Project No. 3-46-0007-014-2024 at the Canton Municipal Airport. The amended maximum State share of the project is $32,918.44. The amendment covers a change in the utility construction costs. The original estimate was far less than actual costs. This amendment is for additional funding from the State of South Dakota. Motion to approve by Commissioner Tyler Larson. Seconded by Commissioner Jackie Pigos. Unanimous approval.

The first item under New Business was a discussion about Initiated Measure 28 (Grocery Tax) from Executive Director of the South Dakota Retailers Association: Nathan Sanderson. Sanderson took to the podium and explained how poorly the Initiated Measure will reduce the amount of sales tax that the State and all Municipalities will receive. He noted that the definition of what constitutes "consumable for humans" is very broad under State law and will lead to issues if the grocery tax is eliminated. Sanderson thanked the Commission.

Next under New Business was a Service Line with Citizen Jacob Oien. Oien was present at the August 5 City Commission meeting during the Visitors to be Heard to talk about his sewer service line. He lives on South Cedar Street and there is no sewer main on that part of the Street. His Sewer Line runs approximately 170 feet to Sixth Street across private property. The service appears to be plugged. He had the line partially snaked, but the company was unable to get it completely unplugged. Canton Ordinance section 51.04 (c) states all costs and expenses incidental to the insulation and connection of the building sewer shall be borne by the owner. Motion to uphold the City Ordinances that service lines are the responsibility of the homeowner by Commissioner Kris York. Seconded by Commissioner

Paul Garbers. Unanimous approval.

A Discussion with JSA Regarding Beaver Creek Project & Industrial Park Improvement Project was next on the agenda. At the August 5 City Commission meeting, it was requested that JSA be in attendance at the August 19 meeting for questions regarding the order of the phases for the Beaver Creek Project as well as the concrete bid specifications for the Industrial Park Improvement Project. City Engineer/JSA Engineer Myron Adam went to the podium to answer questions. He noted that the reason for moving into Phase 4 before Phase 3 was due to a timing issue with the boring company. Adam also noted that they want to keep the project moving. The Commissioners agreed that Citizens have had a tough time this year, especially with the flood and the project needs to keep moving forward. York also noted that they have faced many water main breaks this Summer as well. Public Works Director Chris Krogmann noted that his crew will be doing a lot of patchwork to help alleviate the water main breaks and noted that the City's infrastructure is old. Garbers also asked about the cement for the Industrial Park Improvement project. Adam mentioned that was an issue with the mix that was submitted and that the issue has been corrected in accordance with SD DOT standards. The Commission thanked Adam. No action was taken.

A New Hire - Public Works Maintenance was next on the agenda. It is being recommended to hire Daniel Herum for the Public Works Maintenance position contingent on the background check at $22.75/hr (Grade 9, Step 3). Motion to approve by Garbers. Seconded by Pigos. Unanimous approval.

Next under New Business was an Update to the Library Assistant Job Description. For the City to keep the job description of Library Assistant on file, it needs to be updated. Changes to the job description have been reviewed by Library Director Tracy Zylstra. Motion to approve Pigos. Seconded by Larson. Unanimous approval.

The Rotary Raffle Request was next on the agenda. Bryan

Launderville from the Canton Rotary has presented a Raffle Request. Tickets will be sold from August 1 to September 12 for $20/ticket. Weekly winners will receive $50 each Monday Night Football Game in the 2024-2025 NFL Season. Motion to approve by York. Seconded by Larson. Unanimous approval.

Next on the agenda was an Employee Raise - McNicholas. Utilities Operator Kory McNicholas has completed his Class 1 Water and Wastewater certification and is eligible for a grade increase. His recommended wage is $25.75/hr (Grade 10, Step 5). Motion to approve by York. Seconded by Garbers. Unanimous approval.

The final item under New Business was an Employee Raise - Valdez. Police Officer Travis Valdez received a favorable 6-month review and is now eligible for a step increase. It is recommended to increase his wage to $28.24/hr (Grade 12, Step 2) effective August 20, 2024. Motion to approve by Pigos. Seconded by York. Unanimous approval.

During Commissioner Dialogue, York mentioned that he was concerned about the electric scooters in the City and how fast they were going. He asked that riders be more careful, slow down and follow the rules. York also mentioned that there have been 13 water main break repairs since April. Pigos commented that the City will be moving away from the Nixle alerts and that there is a way for Citizens to sign up for texts and emails from the City on the City of Canton website. She noted that Citizens should download the City of Canton app. It was mentioned that the app has only been downloaded 168 times at the present time. Garbers mentioned that Civil War Days was a success and they had way more participants this year. Mayor Sandra Lundstrom mentioned that school is back in session and to be alert for children.

With no further discussion, motion to adjourn at 8:05 p.m. by Garbers. Seconded by Larson. Unanimous approval.

Emergency Blood Shortage: Severe Weather Further Strains Red Cross blood Supply Communities Encouraged to Stay Ready, Give Blood During National Preparedness Month

The American Red Cross continues to experience a national blood emergency as remnants of Hurricane Debby and other severe weather events across the country have further complicated efforts to rebuild the nation's blood supply. Those in unaffected areas are urged to make an appointment to give now.

Weather in recent weeks has added to the summer shortfall in donations by forcing the cancellation of nearly 60 blood drives throughout the country, many of which were caused by Debby, causing approximately 1,500 lifesaving blood products to go uncollected.

Annually, severe weather – such as blizzards, tornadoes, floods and hurricanes – impacts about 90,000 blood donations made to the Red Cross. Because blood has a short shelf life and can only come from volunteer blood donors, any disruptions in the ability to collect lifesaving blood can have serious consequences for hospitals and patients.

First-time donors and those who give regularly are critical to blood supply recovery. To make an appointment, download the Red Cross Blood Donor App, visit RedCrossBlood.org or call 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767). In thanks, all who come to give through Aug. 31 will get a $20 Amazon.com Gift Card by email. See RedCrossBlood.org/Help for details.

Those who come to give Sept. 1-15 will receive an exclusive Red Cross raglan T-shirt, while supplies last.

Be ready for emergencies

September is National Preparedness Month, and a strong blood supply is key to preparedness for disasters and medical emergencies. As disasters occur more often and become more powerful due to the climate crisis, the Red Cross also encourages people to get their households ready for emergencies. This year the country has already seen the earliest Category 5 storm ever recorded with Hurricane Beryl, and wildfires have burned 2.7 million more acres compared to all of 2023.

Disasters can happen anywhere, at any time, often without warning. Get ready by making a plan to stay safe, gathering important supplies and knowing how you'll stay connected. To learn what disasters may affect your community, visit redcross.org/hazardmap and then download the free Red Cross Emergency App for step-by-step guidance, real-time weather alerts and expert preparedness and safety advice in both English and Spanish.

About the American Red Cross:

The American Red Cross shelters, feeds and provides comfort to victims of disasters; supplies about 40% of the nation's blood; teaches skills that save lives; distributes international humanitarian aid; and supports veterans, military members and their families. The Red Cross is a nonprofit organization that depends on volunteers and the generosity of the American public to deliver its mission. The Minnesota and Dakotas Red Cross region is comprised of seven community chapters and five Blood Donation Centers, the Minnesota and Dakotas Region serves more than 7.3 million people. The Red Cross is a not-for-profit organization that depends on volunteers and the generosity of the American public to perform its mission. Visit RedCross.org/MNDAKS to learn more.

Canton Faces $215,000 Shortfall with IM-28

Initiated Measure 28 is irresponsible and would create a $215,000 budget shortfall for Canton, according to Nathan Sanderson, Executive Director of the South Dakota Retailers Association and leader of a coalition of more than 30 organizations opposing IM-28.

Sanderson spoke at the Monday meeting of the Canton City Commission and shared data from the South Dakota Municipal League that estimates the negative impact of IM-28 at 14.3% of Canton's sales tax collections, or a loss of $215,853 per year.

"IM-28 would eliminate the sales tax on tobacco, vaping devices, marijuana, toilet paper, mouthwash, and a host of other items," he said. "This would really hurt local budgets and reduce funding to fix potholes, update infrastructure, staff libraries, operate pools, and maintain parks."

The Municipal League estimates IM-28's statewide negative impact for cities and towns to be more than $51.5 million per year. The complete list is available at www.nosdincometax.com.

IM-28 would eliminate sales taxes on "anything sold for human consumption, except alcoholic beverages and prepared food" a broad definition that would include up to 46.5% of all the state's sales tax collections.

"The bad language in IM-28 is irresponsible and will lead to huge cuts or new taxes," Sanderson added. "If IM-28 passes, it would have the absurd result where sales taxes would remain on a rotisserie chicken, but not on a pack of cigarettes."

Sanderson also noted that the Legislative Research Council, the South Dakota legislature's nonpartisan staff, estimates that IM-28 could cut up to $646 million in state funding each year. He says it will lead to significant cuts to education, healthcare, and state employees. Or it sets South Dakotans up for an income tax to fund needed services.

"Either way, IM-28 is bad for South Dakota and I encourage everyone to vote no in November," he said.

IM-28 is on the ballot as an initiated measure in the General Election on Tuesday, November 5, 2024. Early voting begins September 20.

Derick Wenck, Mayor

Attest:
Deb Harris,

Business Item 6. Motion Maxwell, seconded Kindt to approve Resolution 2024-13 IM28 Opposition. Upon roll call vote; all in favor.

RESOLUTION 2024-13
CITY OF HARRISBURG, SOUTH DAKOTA

WHEREAS Initiated Measure 28 was certified for the November 2024 General Election Ballot by the South Dakota Secretary of State;

WHEREAS Initiated Measure 28, if passed, would remove state, municipal and tribal taxes on all items sold for human consumption except alcohol and prepared food;

WHEREAS "human consumption" is undefined in South Dakota Codified Law or the South Dakota Constitution. Black's Law Dictionary defines "consumption" as "the act of destroying a thing by using it; the use of a thing in a way that exhausts it.";

WHEREAS South Dakota Codified Law 34-45-1(7) defines tobacco products as "any item made of tobacco intended for human consumption, including cigarettes, cigars, pipe tobacco, and smokeless tobacco, and vapor products as defined in § 34-46-20.";

WHEREAS South Dakota Codified Law 10-52-2 allows incorporated municipalities to impose a tax on the sale, use, storage and consumption of items that conform in all respects to the state tax on such items up to two percent;

WHEREAS the Attorney General's explanation of the measure states legislative or judicial clarification would be needed if the measure passes;

WHEREAS The City of Harrisburg levies a two-percent sales tax and collected $3,068,103.10 in the 2023 fiscal year and $1,978,587.86 year-to-date in the 2024 fiscal year;

WHEREAS The City of Harrisburg estimates annual lost revenue of $415,000.00 unless Initiated Measure 28 is rejected by voters in South Dakota;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, by the City Council of Harrisburg, that Initiated Measure 28 would negatively impact the municipal budget in our community.

Dated this 20th day of August, 2024

Derick Wenck, Mayor

City of Canton Meeting Minutes

MINUTES OF CANTON CITY COMMISSION MEETING AUGUST 19, 2024 UNAPPROVED

The Canton City Commission met at the Depot Viking Room, on Monday, August 19, 2024 at 7:00p.m. Commissioners Pigors, Garbers, Larson, York and Mayor Lundstrom were present for roll call.

The Pledge of Allegiance was recited. CONSENT CALENDAR

Commissioner Larson moved and Commissioner York seconded to approve the consent calendar consisting of the following: 1) to approve the minutes from the August 5, 2024 Regular Meeting, and the minutes from the August 13, 2024 Special Meeting and that they are signed and published; 2) to approve the warrants to be listed at the end of the minutes; 3) to approve the month end reports for July; 4) to approve the agenda as amended. Unanimous approval.

VISITOR DIALOGUE: AIRPORT GRANT AGREEMENT

Commissioner Larson moved and Commissioner Pigors seconded to approve the amended grant agreement with the State of South Dakota for AIP 3-46-007-014-2022 for an increase in funding of $418.44, as presented and on file, and authorize the Mayor to sign. Unanimous approval.

NATHAN SANDERSON, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF THE SOUTH DAKOTA RETAILERS ASSOCIATION

Nathan Sanderson, Executive Director of the South Dakota Retailers Association, spoke about IM28, the sales tax on food, and about how the initiated measure will reduce the amount of sales tax that State and all Municipalities will receive. Also about how poorly the Initiated Measure is written as well as what constitutes a consumable for humans by definition in State Law.

JACOB OIEN-SERVICE LINE

Commissioner York moved and Commissioner Garbers seconded to uphold the City Ordinances that service lines are the responsibility of the homeowner. Unanimous approval. DISCUSSION WITH JSA REGARDING BEAVER CREEK TRUNK SEWER PROJECT & INDUSTRIAL IMPROVEMENT PROJECT Myron Adam, JSA Engineering, spoke on the phases of the Beaver Creek Trunk Sewer Project and the reason for moving to phase 4 instead of moving into phase 3. It is a timing issue with the boring company.

The Industrial Park Improvement project concrete was also discussed and that there was an issue with the mix that was submitted and that it has been corrected to the proper mix per SDDOT specs.

NEW HIRE-PUBLIC WORKS

MAINTENANCE Commissioner Garbers moved and Commissioner Pigors seconded to approve the hire of Daniel Harum, Public Works Maintenance, at $22.75 per hour, upon clear background check. Unanimous approval.

UPDATE JOB DESCRIPTION-LIBRARY ASSISTANT

Commissioner Pigors moved and Commissioner Larson seconded to update the Library Assistant job description, as presented and on file. Unanimous approval.

CANTON ROTARY-RAFFLE REQUEST

Commissioner York moved and Commissioner Larson seconded to approve a raffle as requested by the Canton Rotary, as presented and on file, and authorize the Mayor to sign. Unanimous approval.

EMPLOYEE RAISE-MCNICHOLAS

Commissioner York moved and Commissioner Garbers seconded to approve a raise for Kory McNicholas, Utilities Operator, to $25.75 per hour for completing his Class 1 Water and Wastewater Certifications. Unanimous approval.

EMPLOYEE RAISE-VALDEZ

Commissioner Pigors moved and Commissioner York seconded to approve a raise for Travis Valdez, Police Officer and School Resource Officer, to $28.24 per hour for completing his probationary period. Unanimous approval.

DIALOGUE: Commissioner York expressed concerns about the electric scooters in town and how fast they go, about the BNSF Right of Ways and how the weeds and trees are blocking vision and that there have been 13 water main repairs since April.

Commissioner Pigors commented that the City will be moving away from Nixle and that there is a way for the public to sign up for texts and emails from the City, but they would need to sign up on the City Website. Commissioner Garbers commented that the Civil Wars Days Re-enactment was a success and there were many more participants than when it was held last time.

Mayor Lundstrom reminded everyone that School is back in session and to be alert for the children as they go to and from the buildings. ADJOURNMENT

Commissioner Garbers moved and Commissioner Larson seconded to adjourn. Unanimous Approval.

4-H SoDak Showmen News

The SoDak Showmen 4-H club met on July 28th, 2024 at South Mini Park in Canton. The meeting was called to order. The secretary and treasurers report was read and approved. Members were thanked for assisting at the car show by emptying garbages, and selling shirts earlier in the day. We talked about helping at the Civil War Days and donating to the Clover Care Kits. We also discussed the upcoming fair: checking in projects, helping at the lunch stand, and the fair clean-up. Record books are due on October 1st. The club voted to pay for the kids that participate in the Ag Olympics at the county fair. The September meeting date will be set at a later date. The meeting was adjourned. C-HAWK FANS ANNOUNCEMENT

With the upcoming volleyball and football season we wanted to share with you the fan expectations from the Dak-12 Conference and the Canton School District. We want all fans and players to have a memorable and positive experience.

C-Hawk Fan Expectations

1. All students in 5th grade or below must be accompanied by their parent/guardian. Students are expected to sit with or be directly supervised by parents during the game. Any student that is not seated and not with a parent will be told to go back to the bleachers.
2. Students in grades 6-12 are expected to be seated/standing in the student section while the game is being played. Quick trips to the restroom and concession stand are permitted, but must be limited and be as quick in nature as possible. Side games of football and other games have resulted in serious injury in the past.
3. All fans must understand that a ticket to the game is a privilege to observe the contest. Sportsmanship is expected from the coaches, players, and fans. If any fan is being disrespectful, belligerent, degrading, etc. toward any person, they will be asked to leave.
4. Cheer for the C-Hawks and not against any other party. We are here to be positive for our team and help them to victory! Be engaged and follow along with the game and leave social hour for after we win!
5. Leave your area better than you found it. Throw away all bottles and garbage as you exit the bleachers and stadium.

Sportstalk

Here we go it is now football season and that makes it the best season of the year well at least for me. This season with no little guys football every day I have had time to play golf and now this week we are heading to Minneapolis to go watch the Braves and some team called the Twins. The Braves were nice enough to start their 3 game series on my birthday the 26th so the whole family is heading to Minneapolis for a few days so some of us who love the Braves can go to the game for the series. Even better than that my beautiful granddaughters will all be there and with 3 of them there it should be very interesting and a heck of a lot of fun. I am bringing as many Braves jerseys as I have to look at them to decide which one I feel will help each day and yes I am way too superstitious but the ball cap has a lot to do with the wins and losses and the changing of the caps can stop a losing streak. I have been looking forward to these games for a while and I think this is maybe my 60th year of liking the Braves because they were in Milwaukee when my family lived in Madison Wisconsin. So Go Braves and I will let you know who won next week in sportstalk. One more thing I think that train that runs right to Target Field is great and when they drop you off at the main entrance you can't beat that so a major ata boy to them.

Ok now for our C-Hawk football team this Friday night, we are playing Rapid City Christian for the first time ever and don't forget we start at 6:00 pm since they have along way to travel back so lets be ready early for some Canton football. I have watched a lot of these kids grow up on the football field and I mean grow up cause we have a good size team and then you throw in our backs so we should be strong and run over people. I hope we have some speed to go with it but I think we should do really good. We have one player Cain Wallner who played quarterback for me about 5 to 6 years and he has signed to be a Coyote for USD next year and he will lead us with a great number of players playing hard and tough. I am looking forward to this season and with a good healthy season by everyone we should be very successful. The pre season #1 ranking doesn't really mean too much but we still have to play hard and win to keep the #1 ranking but if we don't we can peak later in the playoffs and win this 11A like we are suppose to every year. Good luck boys have a great season and just play hard then everything will fall into place for a fun season for you and our crowd and give us all something to yell about.

Lastly I want to wish our C-Hawk volleyball team, Cross Country and boys golf team a huge good luck as you get going on your seasons and I am looking forward to watching some serious spikes from the volleyball team and making it to state. Go C-Hawks have great seasons!!!
