Rock of Ages Musical- Coming Soon!

Canton High School has the spring musical coming up! This year they will be performing "Rock of Ages: Teen Edition." The official synopsis reads "It's the tail end of the 1980s in Hollywood. Aqua Net, Lycra, and Heavy Metal flow freely at one of the Sunset Strip's last famed venues. Legendary rocker Stacey Jaxx prepares to take the stage for one last show with his band, Arsenal — before they show him the door. Amidst the madness, the aspiring rock star (and resident toilet cleaner) Drew longs to take the stage as the next big thing and longs for small-town girl Sherrie, fresh off the bus from Kansas with stars in her eyes. But the rock 'n' roll fairy tale is about to end when developers sweep into town with plans to turn the fabled Strip into just another capitalist strip mall. Can Drew, Sherrie and the gang save the strip — and themselves — before it's too late? Only the music of hit bands Journey, Bon Jovi, and Pat Benatar hold the answer."

Rock of Ages is a fun show with 1980's rock 'n roll, comedy, and inside jokes for those of us who remember that era. Thirty-five students are involved this year, including the cast and crew, working behind the scenes, as well as on stage. They are encouraged to give their own ideas on what should be on stage, to take calculated risks, and to try new things while supporting each other, which is what theater is all about, says Kristen Townsend, Musical Director. Others on the directing team include Music Director Miranda Mack, Tech Director/Lighting Designer Rachel Flynn, and Costumer Sheila Isais. CHS Graduate Kate Stahl is providing Choreography.

Seniors in the musical include Lane Halverson, Alaina Townsend, Benjamin Buitenbos, Tyler Lease, Samantha Gubbels, and Lexie Kapperman. Audiences will remember Lane Halverson, playing Drew, from Shrek (2024), appearing as one of the three little pigs and Fiona's Father. Alaina Townsend, playing Sherrie, has appeared as Fiona in Shrek (2024) and Sophie in Mama Mia (2023). Ben Buitenbos, playing Stacey Jaxx, appeared as Lord Farquard in Shrek (2024) and past ensemble roles in Mama Mia (2023) and Beauty and the Beast (2022). Samantha Gubbels, playing Mother/Waitress #1, appeared in the Blind Mice/Tap Rats/Duloc Dancers in Shrek (2024) and in other dance and ensemble roles in Mama Mia and (2023) and Beauty and the Beast (2022), and Lexie Kapperman, playing a Protestor/Venus A-Go-Go Dancer, and ensemble in Mama Mia (2023).

Every year the theater department chooses productions that fit a few specific criteria; ensemble shows that allow every student interested to participate, shows that will fit the current seniors' skill sets so they will have a place to shine, and productions with available rights and scale fitting Canton's abilities.

Director Townsend loves the team aspect of musicals and what that can teach students. Every working part of a production takes teamwork and willingness to grow. Everyone must be flexible and constantly adjusting. That can be tense, it can be funny, it can be exhausting. All those parts mean cast, crew, and directors need to depend on one another while being vulnerable. "In school and in everyday life, kids are scared that every mistake will be amplified by phones and posted online," Townsend said, "In theater, we are going to have voices crack, say the wrong thing, or trip. We have to learn that we can trust each other. That the students on stage with us have our back and won't look for ways to humiliate each other. Instead, when those hiccups inevitably happen, we can say 'that's ok, keep going!' When they do keep going, we are going to applaud each other. Their performance in the end will be amazing and they will have made something awesome together." Join them at the Canton Performing Arts Center for the teen edition of this Tony Award-nominated Broadway musical. Performances run on Friday and Saturday, April 11-12 at 7 PM, and Sunday, April 13 at 2 PM. Tickets are $10 for adults and $7 for students, available at the door.

Make America Healthy and Patriotic Again

BIG Update
China’s vaping sector is estimated to be worth $28 billion, but the sale of electronic cigarette devices is banned within its own borders. Thus, China makes a great effort distributing them in America, evading shipping regulations and customs enforcement to do so. If these products are not safe for their own citizens, I question their efforts to smuggle and sell them into the United States.

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has approved only 34 electronic cigarette devices, but nearly 9,000 types are sold in the U.S. – the overwhelming majority of which are made in China. We’re aware of the health risks of vaping and smoking, particularly for youth, but there is an added risk of these illegal products from China that haven’t been approved by the FDA – consumers and regulators have no clue what is in these vapes.

I sent a letter to Secretary of Homeland Security Kristi Noem, Attorney General Pam Bondi, and Acting FDA Commissioner Sara Brenner to bring attention to this issue and ask them to work together to address this concern. The Trump Administration is uniquely positioned to take a strong stance against this illicit activity and curb the flow of these illegal products – protecting Americans’ health and safety.

BIG Idea
Nearly five years ago, President Trump stood beneath Mount Rushmore and announced his plans to establish a National Garden of Heroes to honor those who have had an impact on our nation. The President recently reaffirmed his goal in an executive order planning the celebration of America’s 250th birthday. The Lien family, a patriotic family in South Dakota, has offered to donate 40 acres of their land near Mount Rushmore to be the future site of this statutory garden.

For the last two months, I’ve been working with the Lien family, the White House, and Secretary Burgum to get the Garden of Heroes built in the beautiful Black Hills. I’m looking forward to working with the governor and our congressional delegation to make this happen!

BIG News
This week, I introduced legislation to prohibit the 340B drug program from being used by health care facilities to fund transgender surgeries and hormone replacement therapy. The No 340B Savings for Transgender Care Act has the support of Riley Gaines, an outspoken advocate on transgender males competing in women’s sports.

I am and will continue to be a strong supporter of the 340B program. This program allows safety-net providers to serve the health care needs of low-income and rural communities. But the program must not be abused by subsidizing gender altering surgeries when our nation faces significant health crises. My bill will ensure these dollars are used where needed most to keep the program sustainable and as effective as possible to help those in need.

A new fire hall was the major topic for discussion at the Canton City Commission Meeting.

Kyle King was named to the second All-Conference Team in the boys basketball. Ashley Anderson was named to the All-Conference volleyball team. Receiving honorable mentions were Andy Siebenborn, basketball, John Suter in wrestling, Kristin Carlson and Katie Opland in volleyball.

Friday was the first day of spring. Saturday persons in the Canton area could be viewed out raking their lawns and preparing for the greening of lawns around town. People could be heard talking about planting their potatoes on Good Friday. What Happened? Mother Nature decided that we just hadn’t had enough of Old Mr. Winter. Sunday it started with rain and wind. The weatherman reports that we had .91 inches of moisture during Sunday and Monday. By Sunday evening the snow had started with freezing rain and hail at first. Thunder and lightning could be heard. It sounded like a good old fashion spring thunderstorm. Monday morning it looked quite a bit different. Winds clocked as high as 50 miles an hour were beating a path across South Dakota, leaving snow piled as high as six to ten feet in the northern part of the State. In this area, we were spared the terrific amounts of snow that were dumped on the northern and western parts of the state.

A contract has been closed whereby the building known as the Hicborn Block will be completely remodeled, both exterior and interior. Four new fronts will be put on, the Corner Drug and Barber Shop on the north and City Bakery and former lunch room fronts on the west. The entire upstairs will be modernized and will be used for office rooms, which will not be as large as the present ones but more convenient.

1885

Mark Randall will soon have a stock of carriages which his brother is going to put in here for sale. He also sells the famous Eclipse windmills and scales, manufactured by Fairbanks, Morse & Co.

HISTORY REVISITED

By Gaynor Johnson

Born in New York City in 1919, the late Pete Seeger published a very interesting book in 1972 using short pieces he'd written for Sing Out magazine, other journals and letters he'd sent to family and friends. He called it "The Incomplete Folksinger."

Pete wrote in the introduction "This book has no story line. It has no plot. If you are one of the several millions who recently bought a guitar, or fell in love with some kind of homemade music, you may be able to glean a little useful information here, but don't feel you have to slog through it all. Leaf through lightly; settle on some part that interests you; use the index to locate paragraphs on specific subjects." That's what I'll be doing for this weeks column, focusing on what Pete had to say about his good friend Woody Guthrie, one of America's finest and most prolific songwriters ever to pick up a guitar and say what was on his mind.

So, welcome to spring and the last full week of March. We just went through one of the mildest winters that I can remember with hardly any snow. I hope spring brings us some good all day rain showers because we certainly need the moisture. As I'm writing this they are forecasting blizzard conditions for parts of northeast Nebraska and northwest Iowa but it looks like it will miss the Canton area. Happy reading and I hope you all have your mowers gassed up and ready to go because I've seen some grass greening up.

Pete Seeger on Woody Guthrie from Pete's book "The Incomplete Folksinger" originally published by Simon and Schuster in 1972

Woodrow Wilson Guthrie, one of the great folk song ballad makers of the century, wrote more than a thousand songs between 1932 and 1952. Some may never be worth singing. Others may stand the test of time and become world classics.

Born in 1912 in Okemah, Oklahoma, Woody spent his childhood in an oil-boom town. In 1935 he drifted to California along with thousands of other Okies forced by dust storms and depression woes to leave their homes. He made his living in saloons occasionally fly-by-night radio programs and later for union meetings, parties, political rallies, dance and theater groups and the Library of Congress Folksong Archives. He made dozens of restless trips across the USA, had three marriages and many children (including Arlo).

Woody has described his musical education pretty well. The lonesome ballads sung by his mother, the honky-tonk blues, and the wild hollers that he heard from his father and the other men in town. He picked up his style of guitar playing off of recordings by the Carter family who were popular around 1931 when Woody was 18. He also learned some of his favorite songs directly from their recordings. Another favorite was Jimmie Rodgers, "the yodeling brakeman."

After he had gone to California he was singing for a dollar a day in a Los Angeles radio station when he met Will Geer, the actor, who was doing benefits to raise money for migratory labor camps. Woody came along and dived into the struggle. Will sent me a copy of Wood's mimeographed songbook "On a Slow Moving Train Through California" and told me I sure ought to meet Woody when he came to New York.

I did meet him in March of 1940 at a midnight folksong session held on a stage of a Broadway theater. Will Geer was the MC of the show. Burl Ives was on it, also Leadbelly, Josh White, and there was Woody. A little, short fellow with a western hat and boots, in blue jeans and needing a shave, spinning out stories and singing songs that he had made up himself. His manner was laconic, offhand, as though he didn't much care if the audience was listening or not. I just naturally wanted to learn more about him. I became a friend of his, and he was a big piece of my education.

In 1942 Woody was asked to write an article for a little magazine called Common Ground. The article was called "Ear Music" and was a beautiful piece of Woody's genius. It was so well received that a number of people suggested that Woody should write a book. And before we knew it, he'd started work on "Bound for Glory."

During World War II I went into the Army and Woody went into the Merchant Marines. In 1952, at a party in California, I heard him sing for the last time. He'd come out west again, hoping to start a new life, not realizing that his occasional dizzy spells were soon going to get worse and end his career. Later that year when he went to the hospital with a wasting illness, Huntington's Disease, young people with their guitars and banjos were already singing his songs and making them famous around the world.

One of the most unusual evenings of folk music that I ever participated in was a program of songs by Woody Guthrie, called "Bound for Glory," put on in New York City in 1957. There was plenty of variety. The voices that sang Woody's songs ranged from Ed McCurdys rich baritone to the Kossoy Sisters sweet harmonizing, solos, duets, Earl Robinson's Children Chorus, myself and audience participation. Some children even did pantomime dances to "Songs to Grow On" which Woody had written for his daughter Kathy.

One ingredient this premiere show had which no other could duplicate was the ending that almost proved too melodramatic. It couldn't have been planned. The show was over, the performers were taking bows, when the spotlight shifted to the balcony where sat Woody himself. He'd been let out of the hospital for the occasion. Earl Robinson then whispered in my ear "Sing the last chorus over again." The whole crowd of over one thousand joined in, mostly teenagers who had never seen Woody Guthrie before, stood up and sang his song to him, as though to tell him they would carry his music across the land. Tears were in the eyes of many old-timers as they listened to the strong, young voices....

This land is your land
This land is my land
From California to the New York Island
From the redwood forests
To the Gulf stream waters
This land was made for you and me

Writers and Writing

By Michael Tidemann

Atlas Delves Deeply Into Iowa History

At the risk of seeming Iowa-centric (okay, I am), I must admit that Atlas of Iowa, recently published by University of Iowa Press, presents details I had never considered about my adopted state.

Authors Robert C. Shepard, Patrick Bitterman, J. Clark Archer and Fred M. Shelley have compiled a highly detailed and fascinating picture of the state of Iowa. Lavishly illustrated with graphs and supported by historical statistics, this is a book that should be on the desk of anyone who writes about or who wants to know more about Iowa. And if you don't live in Iowa?

Well, the book is a great invitation to others to come visit and see for themselves.

The authors begin with a natural history of the state that makes us want to learn more. They also tell how settlers created the landscape that later fed the world.

"A natural prairie, savanna, and woodland landscape that nature had molded over the course of about 12,000 years since glaciers last receded was almost entirely plowed into cropland and converted into pasture in less than one century."

Leading the nation in corn and pork production and home to the internationally famous RAGBRAI, "the largest, longest, and oldest recreational cycling event in the world," and the famed Iowa Writer's Workshop, the authors shatter the image of Iowa being part of "flyover country." Instead, the state plays an integral role in everything from agriculture to manufacturing to politics.

However, the authors remove their rose-colored glasses to peer deeply into the impact of mechanized agriculture on rural Iowa. Ironically, the more productive farmers have become, the sparser we find the country landscape.

"The population of most of Iowa's rural counties continued to decline throughout the twentieth century, mirroring a larger national trend associated with the mechanization of American agriculture and the consolidation of farmland. A plurality of Iowa counties, and the state's rural counties in particular, reached their maximum population between 1900 and 1920. These counties have been experiencing population decline ever since."

As I drive past former local towns such as Gridley, Seneca and Halfa, I dwell upon the authors' observations. It's a similar pattern that has impacted the entire Upper Midwest.

At the same time, when I see huge growth in the Des Moines and Iowa City areas, I can take pride in what Iowa has become. It's a great state, a great place to visit and an even better place to live.

Happy Birthday!

Governor Rhoden Proclaims Welcome Home Vietnam Veterans Day

PIERRE, S.D. – Governor Larry Rhoden, in coordination with the South Dakota Department of Veterans Affairs, is proclaiming Saturday, March 29, 2025, as “Welcome Home Vietnam Veterans Recognition Day.”

The Governor and the Department are calling on all South Dakotans to recognize the courage, service, and sacrifice of the men and women who served during the Vietnam War. By giving so much, they remind us that democracy is worth defending.

More than 27,000 South Dakotans were called upon to stand up and fight. Of those, 192 South Dakotans made the ultimate sacrifice. Through the establishment of an annual Vietnam Veterans Recognition Day, South Dakotans can express their appreciation and honor the men and women who served during the Vietnam War by thanking them for their selflessness, devotion, and bravery.

“We are honored to recognize and express our deepest gratitude to the courageous men and women who served in the Vietnam War,” said Jeremiah Schneider, Secretary of the South Dakota Department of Veterans Affairs. “Their sacrifice, bravery, and unwavering commitment to our nation often went unacknowledged for far too long. Let us thank them for their service and honor their legacy. Their strength and resilience have paved the way for future generations, and we are forever grateful for their sacrifices in the name of freedom and duty.”

Financial Focus Don't lose track of financial accounts

Consider this: About 1 in 7 people has unclaimed cash or property, totaling billions of dollars, according to the National Association of Unclaimed Property Administrators. How can you avoid losing track of valuable financial assets?

For starters, keep good records of your 401(k) and IRA accounts. And report a change of address and name changes to financial services providers and former employers. Also, try not to maintain multiple accounts in scattered locations.

But what can you do if you suspect you've already left some money behind?

If you think you've lost tabs on an IRA, you can check old tax returns and bank statements to help track your contributions and find your previous financial provider. If it's a 401(k), you can contact your old employer's plan administrator.

Recognizing the Sacrifice and Contributions of Those who Served in Vietnam

March 29th marks Vietnam War Veterans Day, a day to reflect on the sacrifices and service of the men and women who served in the Vietnam War. Many of these veterans returned home to a country that was divided in its support for the war, and in some cases, they were met with hostility rather than the gratitude they deserved. This day is an opportunity not only to honor their bravery and commitment but also to offer a long-overdue welcome home.

While we can never fully understand the challenges faced by those who fought during the Vietnam War, we can come together to recognize their contributions, acknowledge their struggles, and ensure they know they are respected, valued, and finally, home. It's a moment to heal old wounds and remind them that their service matters.

Those who fought in Vietnam are part of us, part of our history. They reflected the best in us. No number of wreaths, no amount of music and memorializing will ever do them justice; but it is good for us that we honor them and their sacrifice.

Vietnam Veterans fought for freedom in a place where liberty was in danger. Many sacrificed their lives in the name of duty, honor, and country. All were patriots who lit the world with their fidelity and courage. They kept the faith. They fought on, sustained by one another and deaf to the voices of those who didn't comprehend. They performed with a steadfastness and valor that veterans of other wars salute, and they are forever true patriots. They our heroes, and we must never forget them.

OFF The Road With Jerry

This is Capa S.Dak in Standley County located along the Bad River. By now days it probably is a real ghost town, but these old pictures show the town when it had one last resident, named Phil O'Conner. Phil lived many years alone in the 70 acre spread of a once thriving town. Phil taught rural schools for 20 years before his retirement.

This was the former downtown street and road going thru town from southwest to northeast towards Fort Pierre. The name Capa is a Lakota word for beaver. Probably the early fur hunters found plenty of them in the Bad River. The town was started around 1906, starting with 70 residents. There was a newspaper called the "Hustler", two churches and several general stores etc., a rail road line even ran through here back then.

This was once Capa Hotel. This area had hot water in the ground, like many Western S.Dak towns also have. But here a spa was built and the town grew to 300 residents. Guests arrived from all over to seek pain relief by spending a few days in the Luxury Hotel pool.

The one of closest rural schools that Phil taught at. These old west river schools were smaller, because of the few people scattered all over the county. Schools like this could have distance of several miles around for the students to travel. It was a lonely Life out here, especially in a bad winter.

Learned Teen Safe Driving Campaign

Pierre, S.D. – South Dakota high school students now have the opportunity to participate in the Lesson Learned teen safe driving campaign, where they can win $10,000 for themselves and another $10,000 for a school-sponsored activity or program of their choice.

Now in its ninth year, the Lesson Learned campaign plays a crucial role in educating young drivers about the importance of safe driving habits, helping to prevent crashes and save lives. Sponsored by the South Dakota Office of Highway Safety and the South Dakota Broadcasters Association, the campaign rewards participants while promoting safe driving skills.

The entry period is open now through April 30, 2025. Eligible students, ages 14 to 19, can enter by completing a few questions about safe driving at <https://drivesafesd.com/lesson-learned>.

Each completed quiz earns an entry into the drawing, and the website also tracks participation rates for South Dakota schools.

The $20,000 cash award helps capture teens’ attention, encouraging them to reflect on the real-life impact of distracted, impaired, or reckless driving. Last year’s winner, Kasen Bender, a freshman at Watertown High School, received the $10,000 prize and chose the school’s soccer program as the recipient of a matching $10,000 award. By participating in Lesson Learned, teens gain valuable knowledge that not only protects themselves but also promotes safer roads for their friends, families, and communities.

The Office of Highway Safety is an agency of the South Dakota Department of Public Safety, and remains committed to promoting traffic safety and reducing crashes across the state.

Area Communities Celebrated with Regional Economic Development Awards

SIOUX FALLS — The City of Crooks, ISG, Inc. (I&S Group), along with Jeffery Tanner of the Canton Economic Development Corporation were honored with a Partners in Progress Award at Sioux Metro Growth Alliance’s (SMGA) annual meeting Wednesday evening. At the organization’s annual meeting, SMGA recognizes the accomplishments of businesses, individuals in the Sioux Metro, and communities from the year prior. Award categories include Business Partner of the Year, Community of the Year, and Regional Economic Development Champion.

Honored for Community of the Year in the Sioux Metro was the City of Crooks. This award is granted to an SMGA member community that has demonstrated successful new ideas in community development or who achieves a community goal through partnership and community effort.

“They’ve got strong leaders starting with Mayor Butch then you have your city administrator Tobias Schantz—I’ve always enjoyed working with the both of them” said Eric Pauli of Xcel Energy. “They’re always looking forward to what they can bring to the community in Crooks that will help both the businesses and the residents grow.”

support for community development through recent or cumulative past service to economic development and community enhancement.

“Jeff is that person that just keeps following up, he keeps working with those prospects and we’ve landed some good businesses in Canton because of it,” said Jon Frick, board member for CEDC.

Canton Mayor Sandi Lundstrom went on to say, “Our industrial park was stagnant. Since Jeff has been here we’ve added three new businesses and we are almost out of land already, so we’re looking into collective impact on the region meaningful.”

During their annual meeting Wednesday, SMGA also welcomed new board member Jeff Eckhoff of Sioux Falls. Eckhoff is a familiar face to those who work in economic development, having previously led SMGA’s predecessor organizations MCEDA and LCEDA and who currently leads the Planning and Development Services office for the City of Sioux Falls. Eckhoff is replacing outgoing board member Heather Kranz (CEO of TrioTel Communications) of Salem, SD.

This year’s Business Partner of the Year award was presented to ISG, Inc. This award is awarded to a company, enterprise, or entrepreneur doing business in the SMGA region that has shown outstanding community development support or regional economic development partnership activity during the preceding year.

ISG, Inc. has been a major provider of engineering and architectural services for over 50 years and has been serving the region since 2018. Their nationwide footprint has not stopped the ISG staff from being trusted leaders in the region.

Mayor Arden Jones of Hartford, South Dakota says, “From my standpoint as Mayor, I need someone who is willing to come to the table and say ‘hey, have you thought about this?’ rather than just going along with whatever I am saying.”

The final award of the evening was awarded to Jeffery Tanner, Executive Director of the Canton Economic Development Corporation (CEDC). For his work in 2024, Tanner was recognized with SMGA’s Regional Economic Development Champion award. This award goes to an individual living in or working in the region that has shown active expanding our industrial park now.”

Over 140 attendees, made up primarily of community and business leaders from across the region, were greeted by South Dakota Lt. Governor Tony Venhuizen.

“Sioux Falls is a great city and a great place for me and my family to call home,” said Lt. Governor Venhuizen. “South Dakota’s economic strength would not be possible without all the growth that Sioux Falls and the surrounding area have achieved in recent years. The Sioux Metro Growth Alliance is focused on keeping the metro area growing and thriving, and I was honored to join them today.”

SMGA President & CEO, Tyler Tordsen, presented the awards at the organization’s annual meeting and award banquet following the Lt. Governor’s remarks.

“We’re fortunate to live in a state and region where the communities, the businesses, and the people are looking out for each other and working on growing the region with future generations in mind,” said Tordsen. “All of us at SMGA continue to be proud of our members, partners, and volunteers who make the work we do special and our

Sarah Carlson Announces Commission Candidate

My name is Sarah Carlson and I am running for City Commission for the Commissioner of Revenue and Finance. I have been married to my husband, Joe, for over 21 amazing years. We have two wonderful boys, Max (14) and Mason (10). Joe and I moved to Canton 20 years ago. I have worked with the Frieberg, Nelson & Ask law firm for the last 10 years. We have made so many new friends here, and our plan is to continue to raise our family here and enjoy this beautiful and friendly town.

We are members of Canton Lutheran Church, and I am on the Mission and Ministry Board, as well as the Visioning Committee for CLC. I am the Vice Chair of Disability Rights South Dakota Governing Board, a member of the Board for Fun & Friends , and spend a lot of time with my family at Special Olympics. My husband and I are also the Den leaders for the Cub Scout Webelos Den.

I have an extensive knowledge of municipal government, municipal law, and government functions. I am a solid nerd with a love of science, research, reading, and good old fashioned hard work. If I’m not reading or working, I am working on becoming the fittest, healthiest person I can so that I can live a long and wonderful life with my husband so we can continue to care for our oldest son, Max, as he grows as an adult. I take great pride in careful research, careful consideration, and thoughtful understanding of any decision. (Unless its planning another cruise, then maybe I’m a little reckless with my decision making skills)

I believe that the citizens deserve someone who really takes pride in this City and someone who wants to see it continue to thrive. I love to be busy and work hard. You won't see me slacking on the job. Let's make great things happen over the next 5 years! I would appreciate your vote at the Municipal Election on April 8.

Legislative Report

Representative Karla Lems
Speaker Pro-Tempore
District 16

THANK YOU DISTRICT 16!

In the 100th legislative session, I had the honor of being elected as South Dakota’s first ever female Speaker Pro-Tempore. I also chaired the House Commerce and Energy Committee, and led on several key issues:

- HB 1052 was a major victory for landowners, prohibiting companies carrying carbon oxide from exercising eminent domain.
- Prison Construction concerns were addressed as HB 1025 was stopped, and I joined the Prison Task Force to examine alternatives.
- Fiscal Responsibility was emphasized with SB 145, which ensures legislative oversight on future building leases.
- Election Integrity was strengthened with HB 1066 and HB 1208 to prevent non-South Dakotans from voting in state elections.
- Protecting Children from harmful material was addressed with HB 1053.
- Protecting Life was furthered through HB 1005, aiding families in adoption efforts.

There are several ongoing efforts that I plan to stay engaged in as we move forward:

- Prison Task Force: Meeting this summer to address the state’s prison needs.
- Property Tax Task Force: Continuing efforts to find long-term solutions for property tax relief.
- Government Operations and Audit Committee (GOAC): Working to address areas of concern, with more tools available through SB 176.
- Public Utilities Commission and the CO2 pipeline: Summit Carbon Solutions has filed a motion with the South Dakota Public Utilities Commission to "pause indefinitely" its re-application to build in South Dakota.
- Engagement with District 16: I will stay connected with my constituents through various events and continue representing the needs and voices of South Dakotans.

• Common sense, conservative approach on city activities with a “can do” attitude for a brighter future.

- Developments:
 - Canton Community Center
 - Multiple Community Housing
 - Affordable Homes
 - Attract New Business’s to shop locally

• Infrastructure improvements as grants would become available.

• No conflicts of interest on city issues.

I would appreciate your vote in the city election on April 8th, 2025

Motion to proceed with the H&H Study in relation to the flooding in Canton by Garbers. Seconded by Larson. Unanimous approval.

The final item under New Business was to Appoint City Engineer. Each year, the City Commission makes an appointment for the City Engineer, however, the City has not made an appointment for 2025. The City submitted Request For Proposals after making the authorization at the October 21, 2024 City Commission meeting. The item was on the agenda for the February 18 City Commission meeting and was tabled until a further date after a lengthy Executive Session. Citizen Chad Skiles came to the podium to speak about the selection process and why the City would be switching when City Engineer Myron Adam of JSA Engineering has 25 years of knowledge with the City. He also was concerned about possible conflicts of interest existing with some Commissioners. Finally, he said that this discussion needs to be made public so that the Citizens are aware and informed. Skiles urged the Commission to keep Adam/JSA Engineering and thanked the Commission for their time.

Citizen Jo Zomer came to the podium and noted that a full service engineering firm would be more expensive than an on-call engineer. Zomer also mentioned she did not understand why the City needs to switch when Adam has the experience and understanding of the City. Zomer also noted that the lack of transparency in this process is concerning. Zomer thanked the Commission. Citizen Vicki Hoekstra came to the podium expressing the similar concerns and noted that the current infrastructure issues in the City have already been communicated with Adam/JSA Engineering and now they would have to be relayed to another firm if the Commission makes a change. Hoekstra asked if the public could know the costs for these firms from the RFP’s. She urged the Commission to stay with Adam/JSA Engineering and thanked the Commission.

Pigors provided the following costs:

DGR - $216/hr
JSA - $158/hr
Banner - $162/hr
ISG - $195/hr - however, they do offer a discounted rate of $85/hr for certain services

Motion to keep JSA Engineering and Myron Adam as City Engineer by Larson. Seconded by Mayor Lundstrom. Garbers nay. York nay. Larson aye. Mayor Lundstrom aye. Pigors nay. Motion fails 2-3.

Motion to appoint ISG Engineering and Justin Heim as City Engineer by York. Seconded by Garbers. With no discussion, a roll call vote was called. Garbers aye. York aye. Larson nay. Mayor Lundstrom nay. Pigors aye. Motion carries 3-2.

During Commissioner Dialogue, City Administrator Andrew Pietrus commented about the markups on liquor and malt beverages and that the City has been asked to remove them. Garbers mentioned that he would like to get the license holders together to come up with a solution to offset the loss in revenue. Todd Baldwin Announces Running for Commission

No tie, no “glamor shot”, just me, that is what you will get if I am elected to the city commission. Honest, transparent representation of the people, no agenda, no alliances just a pride in a community that I call home.

My name is Todd Baldwin and I have lived in Canton my entire life, except for the four years I spent at the University of South Dakota, I have always called Canton home. I have worked in the Lincoln County 911 Center for the last 36 years. My wife, Vanessa, and I have two daughters Abigail and Isabell. Abigail is a senior at Black Hills State and Isabell will be graduating from Canton High School this May.

Both will be graduating on the same day 400 miles apart, so I am accustomed to difficult situations.

I have been on the city commission in the past and understand many of the challenges that our community faces on a day-to-day basis. I hope to bring experience and knowledge to the position that will help us unite as a community to achieve several goals that would improve the city. The construction of a multi-million-dollar pool project is a huge accomplishment, but taking advantage of this asset will require an aggressive strategy of marketing and awareness to capitalize on this investment. Along with the capitalization of the pool I believe expansion of our rec programs can help our youth to remain involved in activities away from screen time and promote positive social interaction.

A City Administrator can provide a single point contact that can help focus efforts and assist with information being available to the public, along with an emphasis on transparency this can build a positive city image. Cooperative efforts between groups like our school system, senior citizens, Chamber of Commerce and Economic Development could inspire some unconventional ideas that may help us complete project often thought impossible. A community center, improved multi use sports fields, a re-energized downtown and housing are possible if we can unite and prioritize our goals.

I have heard from several people how divided our community has become. I don’t believe we are divided I just think we disagree on how to succeed. Everyone wants to see Canton be a place our children and grandchildren want to come back to. I have seen what Canton was, I am experiencing what Canton is, I would appreciate a chance to help it be what it can be. A welcoming, positive place for everyone to call home.

Track season is underway and I went to the Dan Lennon last week and I know they have had other indoor meets already but they are just about ready to get started on the outdoors part of their schedule. Both the girls and boys have good numbers this year and it will be fun to watch them grow throughout the season and get more people qualified for state. We return one state champion in senior Jenna VandeWeerd in the discus last season and she will be getting ready to defend her title soon once she gets to compete outdoors coming up soon. So far it looks like we have some good triple jumpers and some good hurdlers so keep up working hard at those events along with relay teams that I watched in the dome last week. The boys will be starting their season real soon when we get outside next week. Good luck to all the track kids and the first home meet will be on April 14 when they host the Canton Relays.

Girls golf will be getting underway on the 31st of March when they start practice and their first meet will be on April 17 when they host Vermillion at the Hiawatha golf course staring at 3:00. More on the girls when we see how many are out and who will be leading the way as they are all shooting for a tee time in Madison for the state tourney on June 2nd and 3rd.

Plenty of sports to watch on tv last weekend with the SDSU women's basketball team beating Oklahoma State in the first round of the NCAA tournament and I got to watch the 2nd half and from what I heard that was a good time to start watching. They looked good in the 2nd half as they charged back to grab the lead and hold on to win. Big challenge in next round with UCONN after they won 103 to 34 so good luck to our SD women's team and what an incredible win that could be.

Then on Saturday night I watched my last wrestling of the year as I sat down and turned on the NCAA Wrestling Championships which means the title matches in all the weight classes and it all came down to huge matches and a major upset that has everyone talking in the wrestling world. Penn State won the team title with another record point total and they finished ahead of Nebraska which is a great finish for the Huskers with 2 champions our of 3 wrestlers in the finals. PS had a wrestler win his 5 title for the first to ever do that but for me the main match I was waiting for was the heavyweights when the unbeatable Gabe Steveson was looking for his 3 title against a guy from the Air Force that was wrestling for Oklahoma State who was as big as a house after. He is named Wyatt Hendrickson and it was one of the biggest upsets and you could hear it in the crowd there and especially in the announcers. I don't have anything against Steveson because he is a great, great wrestler and a champion in about every level of wrestling up to Olympic wrestling but this wasn't so exciting because everyone wanted to see him lose but that someone actually defeated on of the greatest heavyweights ever. The match wasn't over till Hendrickson got a takedown with about 20 seconds left in the 7 minute match and held Steveson down for the final clicks on the clock. It was one of the most exciting heavyweight matches I have ever seen but I also really enjoyed watching Hunter win the SD hwt title this year too. I hope everyone got a chance to watch the title match if not look it up and watch it, it was a great match and one you have to see. This ends my need to watch wrestling this year and I will pick it up next November when the C-Hawks set out looking for #9 next year at the state meet in Sioux Falls.
